CROP LOSS FROM HEAT IN STATE HEAVY, WORD

United Press Leased Wire
SACRAMENTO, July 8.—California fruit growers have lost more than a million dollars in the last week by damage to crops from excessive heat and north winds, according to an estimate by W. S. Killingsworth, executive secretary in the state department of agriculture.

This, added to the frosts of last spring and the plague of insects and together with the poor prices, has dealt a heavy blow to the fruit industry.

Apricots in the Suisun and Vaca valleys are almost a total loss, according to Killingsworth. The "cots" have been burned clear to the pit by the heat and most of them will not be available even for drying.

This week three carloads rotted on their way from Suisun to Bay county canners. In this section, two thirds of the pear crop was destroyed. The early plums were badly hurt and the growth of the later varieties was checked.

On the Pacific coast a trade wind brought down the mercury from records of 110 in Fresno and 106 in Sacramento. Pittsburgh reported ten deaths this week and other parts of Pennsylvania nine others. New England had scores of prostrations. Wheat and oat crops in northern states received serious damage. Ohio and Illinois are in the throes of the year's worst heat waves. Texas is experiencing the hottest weather of the summer.

Canada was not spared, the mercury registering close to 100 degrees in many sections.

BOSTON THROWS SEEK TO ESCAPE FROM HEAT.
BOSTON, July 8.—A sweltering blanket of moist heat enveloped New England today, causing thousands to seek the open places.

Many spent the night on Boston Common. The mercury's high mark today was 90 degrees.

RAIN STORM BRINGS RELIEF TO CHICAGO.

Rain was reported generally in the region of the Great Lakes last night.

In Chicago a rain storm flooded the city.

Dry Officer Charges Oakland Brewer Making 5 Per Cent Beer

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—"Near beer" in this district is getting entirely too "near," according to John Exniclos, prohibition enforcement director.

Exniclos states that tests of near beer being manufactured by brewers in Oakland and San Francisco show that the two half of one per cent rule is being violated by almost all brewers.

Exniclos says the principal offender is the Golden West Brewery in Oakland, which, he claims, is turning out beer containing between 4 and 5 per cent alcohol. Exniclos says he intends to conduct a widespread investigation. Several prosecutions will probably result, he announced today.

BIRCH TAXES SOAR ABOVE MILLION EARLY PEACE IN ERIN IS NEAR, VIEW

Contest Looms as Assessment Jumps from $884,375 to $1,153,045

With the assessment of the Birch Oil company, owning a famous twenty-acre piece of oil property at Brea, raised from $884,375 in 1920 to $1,153,045 for 1921, there is no question in the minds of county officials, it was stated today, that the company will come before the board of equalization to make its annual protest against the assessment fixed by County Assessor James Sleeper.

The increase in Birch's assessment is largely due to the fact that oil produced during the year ending March 1, 1921, was worth a great deal more than oil produced on the Birch property during the year ending March, 1920.

In fixing an oil property assessment, Sleeper takes the production of the well and the value of the oil produced, and computes a total. From this total he subtracts the cost of operation. The figure thus obtained is the profit.

Multiplies by Ten.
Sleeper figures that ten per cent profit is about the right percentage to use in figuring the cash value. So he multiplies by ten. He figures on making his assessments come to forty per cent of the cash value. So he takes forty per cent of ten times the profit, and that is the assessed valuation appearing on the books.

The Birch assessment has been increased every year for several years past. In 1919 the assessed valuation put on the Birch twenty acres was $529,715. In 1919 it was $773,475; in 1920, $884,375, and this year it is $1,153,045. Birch's total assessment this year, including personal property and acreage other than the famous twenty, is $1,186,135.

The increase in Birch's assessment this year over last year is due principally to the increase in the value of oil, which during the last assessment year brought 20 or 25 cents more a barrel, on an average, than in the previous year, and to an increase in Birch's income from gas. Sleeper's reports are that last year the Birch company received $45,000 for natural gas produced and in the year previous to that he received $27,000.

To Make Protest.
While the Birch representatives have not yet appeared before the board to make formal protest against this year's assessment, an attorney for Birch intimated that they would be here soon. One of the supervisors told the attorney that the board desired the Birch protest filed early this year so that there could be time to hear it within the period set for hearings. Last year the protest was not filed until late.

For several years the Birch company has waged a continuous fight for lowering its taxes.

The program each year follows: First, comes the contest before the board of equalization, then comes the payment of the taxes under protest, then comes the filing of an action in the superior court seeking to secure a return of taxes alleged by the oil company to have been collected unjustly.

Hitherto, the oil company has won none of its fights. The first of these is still in the upper state courts on appeal.

809,000,000 BUSHEL WHEAT CROP, CLAIM

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The total wheat production for 1921 was forecast at 809,000,000 bushels by the department of agriculture today.

The forecast a month ago was for 830,000,000 bushels. For 1920 the total production was 878,000,000 bushels.

The winter wheat production was estimated at 574,000,000 bushels, as compared with an estimate of 578,000,000 bushels, a month ago.

King George Takes Lead In Move to Give Ireland Real Home Rule

DUBLIN, July 8.—A passenger train carrying the Gordon Highlanders was ambushed near Dublin today. Bombs were thrown at the train and volleys fired at it. There were no military casualties, but several civilians were wounded.

LONDON, July 8.—Eamonn De Valera has telegraphed Premier Lloyd George signifying his willingness to meet the British premier, it was learned here tonight. De Valera stated he would meet Lloyd George to discuss the basis on which the proposed conference for settlement of the Irish question is hoped to be held.

LONDON, July 8.—A truce in Ireland effective Monday is expected to be announced tomorrow, it was learned on reliable authority here tonight.

This development in the Irish situation occurred simultaneously with issuance of a statement in the Sinn Fein official bulletin that Eamonn De Valera had informed the Sinn Fein Unionist conference in Dublin today of the terms of his reply to Premier Lloyd George's invitation to the London conference, proposed by Lloyd George to bring the two Irish factions into session with the British government, providing a tentative working agreement could be reached in Dublin.

Great crowds gathered outside the building where the conference was in progress and cheered the arrival of each of the conferees.

Eamonn De Valera, president of the "Irish Republic," and Earl Middleton, leader of the Unionists in Southern Ireland, received tremendous ovations.

KING GEORGE LEADER IN PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

LONDON, July 8.—King George appears to suddenly have assumed the role of principal mediator in the present Irish negotiations.

The king received Sir James Craig, premier of the Ulster parliament, at Buckingham Palace today.

Following by only one day his conference with Jan Smuts, premier of South Africa, and intermediary in the negotiations, King George's action was regarded as deeply significant.

Unconfirmed reports were immediately circulated that De Valera, president of the "Irish Republic," would be the next important figure to be invited to Buckingham Palace.

The king, it was pointed out, really took the first step toward bringing about the present negotiations when, in opening the Ulster parliament recently, he pleaded for peace in Ireland, urging the people of the island "to forgive and forget."

It is known that King George has been constantly informed of the progress of the negotiations, and, following yesterday's conference with Smuts it was announced that he had given his approval to the proposed London conference, in which De Valera and Unionist representatives will meet Premier Lloyd George would be held at Buckingham Palace.

Mrs. Maxwell evidently crawled under the building while the workmen were eating lunch. It is supposed she went to sleep and was unnoticed when the men returned to work and closed the hole. Constant search has been made for her since her disappearance.

The foundation was broken open today on the chance that she might have found her way under the building. Her body rewarded the search.

PRESIDENT PLANS TO FORCE QUICK ACTION ON IMPORTANT BILLS

(United Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, July 8.—President Harding's patience with congress is about exhausted. He has decided to abandon his original policy of "hands off" in an effort to end what he considers dilatory tactics which have confused legislative program.

This is the explanation of Harding's sudden visit to the capitol and his insistence to senators that congress shelve the soldier bonus bill and get down to work on the tariff and taxation measures for which the special session was called. He will formally recommend this in an early message to congress.

In adopting the leadership tactics used by Roosevelt and Wilson, Harding reverses his original policy which was to allow congress to run its own affairs.

He has waited for four months, carefully avoiding the least show of executive interference. His ire was finally aroused by the eagerness with which congress took up the bonus legislation in the face of the protests of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and other government fiscal experts.

Republican senate leaders today were making plans to carry into effect the program Harding outlined yesterday. Nothing formal will be done until the president's message has been received, leaders said.

The Press and the People

Their Mutual Relations and Obligations

Under this heading the Register intends to have some heart-to-heart talks with its readers, in an endeavor to bring about a better understanding of each other's point of view.

When the Manchester Guardian of England recently celebrated its one hundredth anniversary, C. P. Scott, the editor, delivered an address that attracted considerable attention both in Great Britain and on the continent. His position is the position held by most self-respecting publishers who are trying to publish papers that will live after them, because they ought to live, and is well worth reading. Among other things, he said:

"I have always held that a newspaper is something much more than a party organ. I have always felt that it had duties to perform just as much to its political opponents as to its political supporters; that it has duties to the whole public which it serves or endeavors to serve."

"A newspaper, particularly a newspaper which has its roots in a great community, is and ought to be something in the nature of a public institution. The public has its rights in it just as much, even more, than those who own it. Every side has a right to be heard. Every side has a right to be reported. Of course, it has its own political opinions—it would be a poor newspaper that had not—and the more frankly they are expressed and the more forcibly the better for it and for everybody. Nobody has ever complained of that. But it should be more than a political instrument. It should endeavor to serve the whole community."

"Looking back on the 50 years of my newspaper life, I ask myself what is it for which a paper stands? What are its duties and what are its functions?"

"Well, the first function, it seems to me, of a newspaper is that which its name implies—to give the news and give the whole news. It must not select. It must not pervert; it must not color. Facts are sacred, and to use its command of statement and of publication as a means of propaganda—that is the accursed thing. Its second duty is to reflect life, life in all its phases and in all its multitudinous aspects—art, literature, science, commerce, society, pastimes, religion, everything—and to do this as fully, as fairly as it knows how. And not merely to represent, but to criticize; that is to say, to represent these great departments of thought and activity as fairly and as completely as it knows how."

U. P. PRESIDENT CHARY ON TALK AS TO PLANS

"These are slow times. I have come from an atmosphere of gloom. I have dropped into this wonderland where optimism reigns supreme and where prosperity and contentment are in evidence on every hand. I am afraid to say what we will do or might do toward expanding the system, which recently passed to control of the Union Pacific."

This was the expression today of a man who is at the head of one of the big railways of this country.

He is C. R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific, and he was in Santa Ana today, accompanied by other high officials of the road.

The party had lunch at St. Ann's Inn. In the party beside Gray were H. M. Adams, vice president in charge of traffic; E. E. Calvin, vice president in charge of operation; Chief Engineer McGuire of Los Angeles, and W. B. Brooks, a Baltimore friend of Gray.

The presidents and vice presidents are from Omaha, the home office of the Union Pacific.

Looking Over Properties. The president has been in Southern California for several days and had driven through Orange county before today. The other Eastern visitors were in Orange county today for the first time, it is said.

"We are here looking over our properties and the general conditions in the county," said the Union Pacific president.

"When do you expect to start building operations in extension of the line started by the Salt Lake to Santa Ana?" asked The Register representative who interviewed the railroad magnate.

"I can make no promise," he replied. "Coming as I have from an atmosphere of gloom and business depression and seeing the wonderful section of the Southland I am afraid to make any prediction as to what our company will do in the way of continuing the line to Santa Ana."

"Will you say that you will start or have the branch completed within a year?" queried the reporter, persisting.

"No, I will not, because I am not in position to say," was his answer. "Do you see a field here for the development of a big freight traffic?" was another question fired at the president by the interviewer.

"I am too new in the field to make a statement as to that—I want to wait until I have had time to make further investigations. I don't want to make any statement that I cannot back up—I want to be sure of statements when I make them," was the reply.

"There is one thing, though, I will say," he continued, "and that is that Southern California is the most prosperous section in the United States. The Southland is wonderful, and I am becoming impregnated with the spirit of optimism that obtains here in such a wonderful degree."

"I see the possibilities of great expansion in population and industries and I predict a great future for all of Southern California."

Gray is a fine appearing man and extends into the air around six feet two inches. His hair is tinged with gray. His eyes are keen and alert and his every bearing is that of a keen, alert business man and financier.

ST. ANN'S IS NEW HONEYMOON HOTEL

St. Ann's Inn is seriously considering changing its name to Honeymoon Inn, or some such euphonious nomenclature, since it is so rapidly leaping into favor as a spot where those desiring restfulness and quiet may spend a honeymoon "from all the world apart." Among the July honeymooners now at the Inn are two of wide prominence in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiggins, of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Cooper, of the same city.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins were married yesterday at Orange while the wedding of the Coopers also took place yesterday, with Mrs. F. T. Porter, wife of the Rev. Mr. Porter of the Christian church and, herself, a regularly ordained minister of the gospel, pronouncing the words which made them man and wife.

CRAIG MAY BUY $75,000 LAND AT NEWPORT

That a lease, given by C. L. Lancaster to George L. Craig, C. H. Windham and D. W. Michaels, Long Beach capitalists, on seventy acres of filled land in Newport bay last November also carried with it an option of purchase, was disclosed today when the lease document was placed on record.

The document was signed last November. At that time information obtainable was to the effect that the interests backing the Long Beach Consolidated Oil company boring on the mesa near the Orange County Country club had taken the lease for boring for oil in the tide flats.

The option provisions fixed the price of the property at $75,000. By paying $5,000 November 10, 1920, a six months' option was obtainable. At the end of six months by paying $4,000 an extension of the option for three months was provided for. In case the optional rights were not exerted, the oil lease royalty was set at one-eighth.

The document as recorded does not show whether any optional rights have been taken up or any money has been paid for the optional rights.

Interest in the reported lease last November was enhanced by reason of the fact that the county at that time had under consideration a proposal to lease a frontage of its harbor to Craig.

It was conjectured that Craig had in mind ship-building operations.

KANSAS COLONY HERE INCREASES

Two Kansas families joined the Kansas colony in Santa Ana today and another is expected to arrive tomorrow or within the next day or two.

The new arrivals are Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Purinton and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ward. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gilbert are expected to arrive tomorrow stopped over at Selma, in the north end of the state, for a visit with friends.

L. W. Purinton is a brother of F. L. Purinton, 2036 North Broadway. Ward is a son-in-law of L. W. Purinton and son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Ward, who reside at the Sycamore apartments, North Sycamore.

Gilbert is a brother of O. J. Gilbert of Capistrano, and a son-in-law of L. W. Purinton. All are from Colver, Kansas, and will become permanent residents here. Gilbert and Ward have disposed of all interests in Kansas and Purinton retains only a tract of land.

Purinton was here last year and passed three or four months with his brother, F. L. Purinton. At that time he concluded that his future home would be in Santa Ana or the immediate vicinity. Returning home he induced his sons-in-law to join him in a move to Santa Ana and the three families said goodbye to their relatives and old friends in Kansas eight weeks ago. They traveled in three automobiles, two Buicks and an Oakland.

They came by way of Oregon, and while in Oregon stopped at a city auto camp ground that they declare is more completely equipped than any of the grounds they stopped at on their journey to this city.

An electric washer and an electric mangle is part of the camp equipment and the charge for the privilege of stopping at the camp is only 25 cents a day.

Anaheim Sits Up and Takes Notice of Newspaper Situation

(Anaheim Plaindealer)
Civic organizations of Santa Ana are not going to sit supinely by and permit F. W. Kellogg, Los Angeles publisher, to invade the county seat with a cheap newspaper and the Express as he has in Anaheim. Ringing resolutions have been adopted by the Santa Ana Merchants & Manufacturers' association, and the Santa Ana Realty board opposing Kellogg's plans. Similar action will be taken by the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and other booster bodies, it was stated today.

Santa Ana business men have profited by observation of the handicap Kellogg has placed upon the development and progress of Anaheim through his control of The Anaheim Herald and have decided if they can possibly prevent terminated that such handicap shall not be placed upon their institution.

BODY OF DROWNED YOUTH IS FOUND

Word was received by Coroner Charles D. Brown shortly after noon today, of the recovery of the body near Anaheim Landing, of Orel Peterson, 21, who met his death by drowning July 4 in an effort to save a young woman who had gone beyond her depth in the breakers.

Coroner Brown left at once for Anaheim Landing prepared to hold an inquest over the body in case the witnesses could be gathered together. If this was found to be impossible, the inquest will be deferred until a later date.

Young Peters, who lived in Hollywood, was a mechanic employed in a garage there. He had been in California only a short time, having come from Nevada.

After his unsuccessful battle with the strong tide, his body could not be found and doubts were expressed as to its ever being recovered. The young woman to whose rescue he went, succeeded in reaching shore safely with the aid of other swimmers.

weather, the weather bureau reported today.

No relief is in sight, according to the weather forecast, for the next thirty-six hours.

So far damage has been confined to the upper parts of the northern states, such as Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, North and South Dakota and Minnesota.

16 PROSTRATED AS HEAT WAVE HITS GOTHAM

NEW YORK, July 8.—New York suffered its share of the heat wave enveloping the country today.

A rise in temperature over corresponding hours of yesterday counteracted a reduction in humidity.

Many business firms and offices closed early and perspiring employees got away to the parks and beaches.

Sixteen prostrations were reported.

BIRCH PARK SCENE OF HOOSIER PICNIC

Hoosiers, Birch park and picnic is the theme of this story. Birch park has provided such a cozy retreat for the various county societies of those folks who are loyal to their foster state, but true to the state whence they came.

Such is the spirit of the 100 or more men, women and children who gathered in Birch park at noon today, to feast and make merry like all good Hoosiers do, renewing acquaintances and memories of their good state, Indiana.

Complying with the wish of the president, Mrs. I. D. Mills, of Orange, the assemblage sang "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow," before they sat down to the good things that covered the picnic tables.

Everyone was glad to see Dr. I. D. Mills, who for the past year has been confined to his home, but who "just couldn't see a Hoosier picnic slip by" without him.

Mit Phillips, the illustrious treasurer of the society, did not eat much because he "had a hunch" that he was going to be asked to speak, and impromptu speeches frighten him.

At one table the birthday of Mrs. Theo. Winbigger, who claims Indiana through her mother, Mrs. Mills, was being celebrated, with a beautiful birthday cake "n everything."

G. J. Mosbaugh, one of the staunchest upholders of his home state, and Will Starbuck of Fullerton, secretary of the association, were both there, accompanied by their wives.

any dairy in the county by Mrs. Lin-dairy farms. "Your superintendent of the county farm is to be commended on the excellent sanitary condi-

"It is undoubtedly the cleanest and best appointed dairy farm in Orange county and one of the best in the state." Her complimentary remarks were made to County Auditor W. C.

GIRL NABBED AS FORGER DENIES HER GUILT

Charged with forgery, Miss Thera-sa McNamee, of Los Angeles, was arraigned in the justice court here this morning. Her preliminary hearing was set for August 8 at 2 o'clock and her bail was fixed at $500. She was returned to the county jail in default.

Miss McNamee, who weighs about 300 pounds, today denied that she forged the check that is being held in evidence against her. "The whole thing will be cleared up," she said, when she is given a hearing.

"I stopped one night at the Ros-smore hotel," said Miss McNamee. "I did not have sufficient money to pay my bill and gave the hotel clerk a ring which was worth a good deal more than my bill amounted to."

"Here I am,"
"He gave me a check for $5 to balance the transaction. I then took the check to the shoe store and tried to cash it after signing my name to it—and here I am, in jail."

The check was drawn on the First National bank of Santa Ana, made payable to "Miss McNamee" and bore the name of "P. D. McNamee," as the payee. "Rossmore Hotel" was written in the lower left-hand corner.
Miss McNamee sought to cash the check at the Turner Shoe store. The salesman who waited on her became suspicious and called D. M. Loveridge of the Rossmore on the telephone. When he had informed the salesman that he had not written such a check the young woman was arrested. City Motorcycle Officer
Frank Stewart took her to the county jail.

Search Girl's Room
"The girl stayed at the Rossmore only one night," said Loveridge this morning. "She came to me yesterday morning and wanted to know where the 'good looking clerk' was.
I assumed she meant the night clerk and told her that he was out. 'Alright,' she said, and walked out. I did not give her a second thought until I received word from the shoe store that she had presented a check with my name on it. We searched her room and found nothing but a suit case."

Miss McNamee said that she came here from Los Angeles. She claims to be a cashier but said that she had not been working for about three months. Her mother, she said, had been furnishing her with money.

H. D. Connell of the Turner Shoe company swore to the complaint against Miss McNamee.

TO OPPOSE PRISONER FURTHER PROBATION

District Attorney A. P. Nelson stated today that he did not know what action was to be taken for the disposal of the latest check charge against Paul Tucker, who is now in the county jail.

"If he is brought into court with an application for an extension of his probation I certainly will oppose it," said Nelson. "The probation officer seems to be of the opinion that Tucker is irresponsible, but if I have my way about it he will not get off this time."

Tucker was arrested the latter part of last week after passing an alleged worthless check for $10 on the Laguna Beach Tent City company. He was on probation at the time.

BOY NEAR DEATH AS HANDCAR HITS HIM

Ramon Zuniga, 9-year-old Mexican, was confined at the county hospital today with serious injuries sustained when he was struck by a Pacific Electric handcar at Stanton about 5 o'clock yesterday evening. According to Dr. H. E. Zaiser, the boy has cuts and bruises all over his body, but no bones are broken.

Zuniga was herding cattle along the Pacific Electric right of way when he lay down on the track and fell asleep. The handcar which struck him did not run over him but dragged him along the track for several feet.

There were four men on the handcar and none of them saw the boy before he was struck. All were operating the hand power lever and had their faces toward the floor of the car. The men were returning to their homes after a day's work and did not expect to find a boy asleep on the track.

Nearly all of the clothing was stripped from the boy's body. He was lacerated from his head to his feet and unconscious when brought to the county hospital.

According to Dr. Zaiser, he will recover.

BOXING TO FEATURE LEGION'S PROGRAM

Stanley Reed, chairman of the American Legion program committee, announces today a specially fine program for the coming meeting to be held Thursday, July 14.

This is the regular monthly meeting of the local Legion post and as soon as the regular business of the meeting is taken care of the program will begin. Beside a number of boxing bouts, there will be some specially fine music.

The boxing events have been arranged through the kindness of Lloyd Nell, a local boxer of some ability. Among those on the evening's card will be Lavie Galten, the Holmes boys, Young Leo and Carl
Berkert, his injured ear permitting.
Nell was anxious to take part himself but this event had to be postponed until a later date, as he is leaving Saturday for the Yosemite.

A big turnout is expected at this meeting, as it is the midsummer meeting and some specially important business is to be taken up.

FORCIBLE FEEDING OF DEAD MAN TOLD

United Press Leased Wire
CLEVELAND, July 8.—Dora Kaber, while lying ill in bed, was forced to eat the food prepared for him by Mrs. Catherine Eva Kaber, according to testimony given today by Miss Emma Wagner, former maid at the Kaber home.

Miss Wagner was the first state witness called to the stand when the trial was resumed today.

The witness recounted instances where Mrs. Kaber forcibly fed her husband strawberries and candy, which apparently made him violently ill.

Miss Wagner was followed on the stand by Miss Crystal Benner, a nurse who attended Kaber for three weeks, about two months before his alleged murder.

The nurse told substantially the same story as Miss Wagner, recounting seeing Kaber ill on several occasions after given food by Mrs. Ka-ber.

The state charges that arsenic poison was contained in the food which Mrs. Kaber forced her husband to eat.

SPEAKER SCORES SCHOOL BAN ON SEX PROBLEMS

United Press Leased Wire
DES MOINES, Ia., July 8.—Prudishness in old fashioned school teachers was scored today by Benjamin Greening, director of physical education in public schools of Washington, D. C.

The overly modest English teacher, who is embarrassed when she is compelled to mention in the classroom anything relating to sex, is responsible for much of the sex consciousness in high school pupils, Greening told a conference of physical educators attending the National Educational association convention here.

"Every teacher of English literature should take it for granted that the pupils are already acquainted with the basic facts of sex and feel free to discuss human passions, human relations and human ideals without embarrassment."

A Pan-American conference on education, similar to the Pan-American financial congress was suggested by Colonel E. Silva, special commissioner of education for the Cuban government, in an address before the conference on geography in connection with the teachers' convention.

"Germany has tried to infest South American nations with 'kultur' in education, as well as in other institutional lines," Silva said. "It has not succeeded but it points to an ever-present danger."

PEACE SOCIETIES PUT BAN ON GRENADE BANKS.

DES MOINES, July 8.—Arthur H. Chamberlain of the thrift educational committee told the N. E. A. convention here today that he obtained 15,000,000 hand grenades to school children, but was stopped by peace societies, who insisted that such banks would teach the children of war. The educators still hope to distribute the grenade banks.

12 INSANE PATIENTS ESCAPE WHEN BLAZE DESTROYS HOSPITAL

UKIAH, Cal., July 8.—Twelve lunatics were at large in this district, following the fire which early today destroyed the main building of the Mendocino state hospital for the insane at Ukiah, three miles from here.

While the 120 guards and attendants were frantically engaged in controlling a large number of violent patients as the 1200 inmates were being marshalled from the building, twelve patients, one of them a woman, managed to slip away unnoticed.

The hospital authorities declared that the twelve who escaped are harmless cases. The townspeople and ranchers of the surrounding district, however, are alarmed. Bands of volunteer searchers have been sent out in every direction, and it is expected that the twelve will be retaken within a few hours.

A refugee camp on the lawn, with a cordon of guards around it, has been established.

FEARS GUNBOAT MAY OPEN TAMPICO RIOT

United Press Leased Wire
MEXICO CITY, July 8.—The situation in the Tampico oil fields, already critical as a result of unemployment, was regarded in semi-official circles today as having been aggravated by the presence of the American gunboat Sacramento off that port.

Trouble may be precipitated by the presence of the war ship, it was pointed out. If so, any force the Sacramento could land would be insufficient to restore order.

Acid famine in the oil districts is considered imminent. The railway has been cut between Tampico and San Luis Potosi by a wreck, attributed to a washout. This has had the double result of decreasing Tampico's food supply and completely cutting off shipment of fuel oil to Mexico City. Oil shipments have fallen off 78 per cent since the new Mexican export tax became effective, according to unofficial estimates.

TWO KANSAS UNION LEADERS SENTENCED

United Press Leased Wire
COLUMBUS, Kan., July 8.—Alexander Howat, president of District 14, United Mine Workers, and August Dorchy, vice president, today were sentenced to six months in jail and fined $500 each by District Judge Boss for violating the Kansas industrial court law by calling a local strike over a wage controversy.

Howat and Dorchy were convicted by a jury last week. Immediately after he was sentenced in a courtroom crowded with miners, who refrained from demonstration, Howat, answering the judge, declared he was within his right in calling the Mackey strike and that the industrial court law was unfair.

A meeting of Southern Kansas miners has been called for late today at the park here and Howat and Jake Sheppard, the mine leader's attorney, will make addresses against the court law, Howat said. Mine union leaders declared that about 2,500 miners will attend.

Prior to sentence, motion of Howat's and Dorchy's attorneys for a new trial was overruled. After sentence they were released on $4,000 bond each, pending their appeal to the supreme court.

TARIFF BILL HELPS U. S. MOVIE FOLK

WASHINGTON, July 8.—America's high salaried movie stars and the lesser lights of flimdom have been placed under the "protective wing" of the Republican tariff bill, now being considered in the house.

As a result, the salaries of those whose pictures appear on the American screen will not have to be slashed to enable American companies to compete with a brisk, low cost European competition that has suddenly sprung up. The tariff bill would provide protection for American "movies" by requiring a tax on all foreign films of thirty per cent ad valorem.

Not only that but the Europeans cannot expect to reap big profits by sending "daring" films to the United States as the bill makes the secretary of the treasury a censor of all reels sent to this country.

The tariff rate carried in the bill, it was learned, is the result of the unexpected success of a few German films recently displayed throughout the country.

SOON TO QUIT JAIL.
Miss Sue Amuck and Miss Alice Huhn, Anaheim chiropractors, are looking forward to their respective emancipation days, which are not far distant. The former will be released from the county jail July 25 and the latter July 26. Both have declared their intention of resuming their practice the very day that they are liberated. Many of their patients have visited them.

MANY AT PARK OPENING.
The opening of the new Anaheim twenty-acre park last evening was attended by hundreds of persons. The entertainment was furnished by the Anaheim municipal band in the form of the first of a series of week-long programs. Following an hour's program, street dancing was enjoyed for an hour.

MERE $1350 PER MONTH ALIMONY PEGGY'S LOT

United Press Leased Wire
CHICAGO, July 8.—Peggy Joyce, 22, who was granted $1,350 a month temporary alimony by Judge Joseph Sabath today.

The court also allowed the pretty blonde $27,500 attorney's fees and $2,500 to gather evidence in her fight against the suit for divorce brought by her millionaire husband, J. Stanley Joyce.

The judge drastically cut the amounts requested by Peggy to "maintain herself in a life of luxury" to which she claimed she had become accustomed.

Cuts Request in Half.
Her request for $100,000 attorney's fees and suit expenses was cut in half. She asked $10,000 a month alimony.

The court, however, ruled Peggy would not have to pawn her jewels in order to pay her living expenses and said if she found the amount allowed was not sufficient to meet costs, she would entertain a motion to increase the amount.

"Joyce is a man of great wealth, who lavished great expenditures on his wife," the court stated. "It certainly should be no injustice to ask him to support her now while this action is pending."

Holds Marriage Legal.
Judge Sabath said the marriage of Peggy and Joyce was legal. Joyce had contended Peggy had not been granted a divorce from Sherburne Hopkins when he married her.

Although Joyce declared Peggy had a large private fortune and was able to support herself, the court held "the wife in an action of this kind should not be compelled to exhaust her own estate, although the income which she receives from her property may be deducted from the amount which the husband should pay."

The court allowed the petition of Joyce's attorneys for an appeal and gave them forty days to file it. Peggy's money will be tied up for that length of time at least.

JIMMIE HOME AFTER TRIP TO ANAHEIM

"Jimmie" decided to celebrate the Fourth.
He did.
He trotted along the highways of Orange county and landed in Anaheim—then he lost his way and his enthusiasm.

Now he is back home in Long Beach. And he is happy, as is little Barbara Schumann Heink, granddaughter of the famous prima donna.

Jimmie is her big German wolfhound, nine years old.

Diligent search was made for the dog but without avail until H. W. Johnson took him to the police station at Long Beach and informed the desk sergeant that the dog had followed him from Anaheim.

Barbara Schumann Heink is the daughter of Henry Schumann Heink, manager of the Dundas-Martin company, of Long Beach.

RUBBER STOCKS HIT AS DIVIDENDS STOP

NEW YORK, July 8.—The New York Evening Sun's financial review this afternoon said:

"The real test of the market's position came today, for with a large percentage of short contracts retired, continuation of the advance was dependent principally on the development of new buying for long account. Declines were not serious, save in a handful of stocks."

Such issues as International Harvester, American Sugar Refining, Famous Players, United Fruit and a few others dropped three to six points very easily, but on general run of industrial prices slid off moderately and the rail issues were quite steady.

Discontinuance of the dividend of United States Rubber and the passing of payments on Flak Rubber preferred stocks provoked some selling in the whole rubber group, with U. S. Rubber the weakest. Mexican oils were singled out for attack in the early afternoon, Mexican Petroleum selling some eight points on yesterday's news figure.

New York Stock Market
NEW YORK, July 8.—A general movement developed in the stock market in the second hour today.

United Fruit, International Harvester, Sears, Roebuck and independent steels were principally under pressure. American Sugar made a new low for the year at 64 1/2, off 4 1/4 net. Cuba Cane preferred made a new record low, and the weakest. Mexican oil more than 3 points, as did Sears-Roebuck.

Mexican Petroleum held up better than most of the other stocks. Studebaker, after opening at 79 3/8, was run up above 81 and then reacted to the opening level.

Operators explained that the rally during the morning had weakened the market's technical position and made it open to attack.

Mexican Petroleum held firm in the trading after noon, American Sugar continued heavy. The tire stocks were firm.

The entire list turned reactionary in the fourth hour. U. S. Steel sold close to 74. Other active stocks were off an average of two points from the highs made during the first hour. A bad break in Famous Players carried that stock down to 49 1/2, off 6 net.

The market closed lower. Several new lows were made during the last half hour. Studebaker sold down to 78 3/8 and Chandler was also heavy. American Tobacco was off 3 at 117; Asphalt got below 48, off nearly five points for the day. Mexican Petroleum was off more than 6 points from the morning high at 83 1/4. Rails, however, held up well. Call money got up to 6 per cent.

Closing prices included:
U. S. Steel, 73 7/8, off 4 1/4; Baldwin, 74, off 1 1/2; Pan American, 46, off 2; Chandler, 60 7/8, off 1 1/2; Kelly Springfield, 26 3/4, off 1 3/4; United Fruit, 102 1/4, off 3 3/4; American Woolen, 67 1/2, off 1 1/2; Northern Pacific, 104 1/2, off 1 1/2; United States Rubber, 64 1/2, off 4 1/4; Famous Players, 49, off 4 1/2; Bethlehem Steel, 48, off 1 1/2; Mexican Petroleum, 63, off 6 3/8; Studebaker, 78, off 3 3/4; U. Christmas Tree In July Brings Various Kinds of Smiles to Many Faces Passersby smiled and perhaps thought that the group of merry ladies around a decorated Christmas tree in Birch park, Wednesday afternoon, were rushing the season, but it was merely the kind forethought of the Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church in looking after the Christmas happiness of the folks in the foreign mission fields, gifts for whom must be sent months ahead so that they may reach their destination on the real Christmas day.

The pretty tree bore gifts for Miss Martha Howell, missionary at Santa Ana, Central America, and for Miss Desma, missionary at Ongola, India, as well as gifts for the children there and over ten dollars in money to be used in connection with the missionary work.

The ladies had plenty of fun with their Christmas tree celebration and the packing of the boxes, and there is no doubt but that those who receive their gifts will fully appreciate them. Mesdames Elliott and Hosea had charge of the tree.

The Christmas tree was only one feature of the delightful all-day meeting of the society. The day began with a delicious picnic dinner at noon, at which thirty-four ladies were present.

After dinner, the election of officers for the ensuing season was held, with the following result:

President, Mrs. Gould; vice-president, Mrs. Mock; second vice-president, Mrs. W. Frank Harris; third vice-president, Mrs. Bowe; fourth vice-president, Mrs. Albert Hill; fifth vice-president, Mrs. Lucy Lockett; recording secretary, Mrs. J. Wiley Harris; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Elliott; treasurer, Mrs. Lottie Grouard.

After the election Mrs. Archie Robinson read the devotionals, and Miss Camp led in prayer.

Miss Mildred Bowe gave a splendid talk on the work of Miss Howell in Central America, and Mrs. Baird read a paper telling about the work of Miss Desma in India.

Mrs. Holmes, the outgoing president, presided at the meeting.

Methodist Women Hold Last Meeting of Season

The Woman's Home missionary society of the First Methodist church held their last regular meeting of the season on Wednesday afternoon, at Birch park, at which time Mrs. F. Rogers presided in the absence of the president.

Reports were received from the various officers of their year's accounts, and it was decided to hold the next meeting in September.

Preceding the meeting a jolly picnic feast was held in the park with the ladies of the aid society of the church.

American Legion to Give Final Season Dance

The last American Legion dance of the season will be given this evening in the Legion ballroom, and because it is the last season dance the "boys" are planning to make it an extraordinary one.

Their orchestra has some new "peppy" dance scores, which they have been saving for this last dance, and the members of the Legion cordially invite every one who likes a good place to dance and good music to join them in this final dance.

Relief Corps Meets

The regular meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps was held in G. A. R. hall yesterday afternoon, with the presiding. The attendance was good and services interesting.

Two candidates were balloted on and elected to membership. They were Mrs. Hendricks of Garden Grove, and Mary G. Rogers, of Santa Ana. Mrs. Lena Adams was initiated into full membership.

At the close of the business session memorial services were held for the members of the corps who have died during the past year.

ALLEGED SLAYER TOLD HUSBAND IS BURIED

Mrs. Mary Campbell, held in the county jail here for the murder of her husband at Balboa Monday, June 27, appeared to be surprised when informed of the burial yesterday of her deceased husband. She said that she thought the body was buried several days ago.

Mrs. Campbell showed no apparent emotion when informed of the last rites of her deceased husband.

Interment of the deceased was in an Anaheim cemetery, under the auspices of the Anaheim lodge of Elks, of which he was a member.

Midnight Bathing Party Is Latest Sport of Grunyon Hunters

Sometimes grunyon do not run. This fact is vouched for by a party of "brave" grunyon hunters who last night stormed the beach at the foot of the Balboa pallsades. The party was made up of employees of the Automobile Club of Orange county.

However, the lack of grunyon did not stop the crowd from having a splendid time. If there were no grunyon, the at least the ocean was there and everyone went in for a midnight dip. Races on the beach served to dry the party and create sufficiently large appetites to enjoy thoroughly the steaming hot coffee and sandwiches served around a roaring bonfire.

Those who made up the party were Misses Violet Bush, Ethel Kovler, Louise Kidson, Harriett Koeder, Mrs. Joe Rowley, Messrs. A. J. Ralph, David Carmichael, Stanley Reed, Joe Rowley and F. C. Arnm, and Harry Robotham, who is camping on the beach.

CITRUS RAIL RATE PARLEYS PLANNED

Santa Ana and Orange county citrus and vegetable growers were interested today in an announcement from Los Angeles that arrangements were being made there for a conference on freight rates between representatives of these interests and railroad traffic men.

With vice presidents of two of the big railway lines visiting in Southern California the growers are embracing the opportunity for presenting the freight rate situation direct to them.

The two railway representatives now in the Southland are Edward Chambers, vice president of the Santa Fe in charge of freight traffic, and R. M. Adams, vice president of the Union Pacific in charge of freight traffic.

Chambers, it was said, has already been in conference with G. Harold Powell, president and manager of the California Fruit exchange.

The Citrus Growers' Protective association has asked for a conference with the freight executives of the Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and Western Pacific. It is said that such a meeting will be held within the next few days and that rates on citrus fruits and vegetables will be discussed. It is understood that the two railroad executives mentioned and L. J. Spense, traffic director of the Southern Pacific, and H. K. Pay, general traffic manager of the Western Pacific, will be present.

Chambers, who is on the coast direct from the big business centers of the East, says business in the East is showing slight improvement and he predicts that by next spring general conditions will be most satisfactory.

He predicts marked activity in railroad building when adjustment is completed and business revives.

SOCIETY—FREAK

A SONG IN EVERYTHING.

There is a song in everything. In every little care that comes, In babies as they suck their thumbs, The tunes the brave canaries sing, The mother's patient, gentle smile, The glory of the after-while.

There is no sadness but is sweet With fragrance, and there is no day But spreads some beauty on life's way; The dusty and the weary feet Upon their homeward journey bring Delights which loving hearts may sing.

The high chair and the cradle, too, Have ever set brave lips to song, No grief has ever lived to long But turned to music as it grew, And every hour of strife and pain Leaves in the heart some sweet refrain.

Lord, teach me this, from day to day, To find beyond the hurt and care Thy mercy shining everywhere; Let me rejoice that children play, And know when bitter tempers sting There is a song in everything.

WOMAN PAYS BET BY SHOVING A 'BARROW

OMAHA, Neb., July 8.—While more than 500 persons looked on, Mrs. Rose Stodden paid a freak bet on the Dempsey-Carpentier bout by plopping Walter Binkley through the business section here in a gaily-decorated wheelbarrow.

She had a large placard, "I bet on Carpentier," pinned on her back. It took her twenty-five minutes to wheel Binkley over the prescribed route.

THE NEXT SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PRACTICAL NOTES PREPARED FOR THE REGISTER

By Cal Ogburn

Lesson for July 10. Acts 7:54-8:3; 22:3, 4; 26:4, 5, 9, 10. Saul the Pharisee.

"And Saul was consenting unto his death." 8:1. To say that a man is "very religious," is often no compliment to him whatever, no matter if it was so intended. Saul is an example of a man zealously religious, and yet in actions a very demon. Saul's "orthodoxy" may stand the test of every rule that can be applied to it, but if he is not gentle, kind, considerate of the rights and privileges of all others, however alien they may be to his way of thinking and living, his religion is still poorer quality. Intolerance is only a manifestation of extreme selfishness, and no self-centered person can exemplify the requirements of the Golden Rule, which is the essence of all religious systems that are conducive to the world's betterment. Because a man is sincere in what he believes and practices is no evidence that his religion is of a high order. There is no doubt as to Saul's sincerity. When consenting to the death of Stephen, he acted from the deepest conviction that he was serving God. In his selfish, blind zeal, Saul could not see how he could be true to the religion of his fathers which was as he believed ordained of God—and at the same time tolerate the unorthodox sect to which Stephen belonged. Were they not all apostles, deserving of death? Alas! in this Saul has had many a successor. And as a result the world has run rivers of innocent blood. To this day, a great many people are still willing for others to have religion, except when they come to them for it and use their little "peck-measure" when getting it! To learn the lesson of religious tolerance has been an age-long task. Much progress has been made, especially in our own country, which, in this, is setting a worthy example for the world. But, say, you, "Saul," do you have as high regard for "Stephen," who is practically and charmingly religious, as you would if he were only a member of "your church?" Do you think as much of him now, with his same beautiful Christian character, as you did before he left your denomination and joined an "unorthodox sect?" Be honest with your self. Just how much of the zealous, intolerant spirit of Saul the Pharisee are you entertaining? Some "professors of religion" talk much about Christian unity, but with an attitude almost as foreign to it as was that of Saul towards "Stephen and his contemptible sect." Only think, that today there is no affiliation whatever between professed followers of the same Christ, because one party will not repeat or recognize the "shibboleth" of the other! Is it any wonder then, while the intolerant spirit of Saul thus lingers, and shows its hateful self, that "sinners" are content with their own "home-brew" religions? There is nowhere to be found anything more terrible than a "holy war"—such as began with the death of Stephen. The world is by no means past the danger point. When the conditions are favorable, a few religious zealots on the one

HOUSE IS ADAMANT AGAINST AMENDMENTS

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The house refused again to agree to senate amendments to the naval appropriation bill, authorizing the acceptance of a tract of land at Sand Point, Wash., as a site for a naval aviation base, and appropriating $300,000 toward development of such a base.

The house also reaffirmed its disagreement to Senate items carrying $500,000 for a pier extension at the Puget sound, Washington, navy yard, and $90,000 for a rifle range there.

Previously the house had rejected all amendments, but the senate, insisting that they be agreed to, sent the bill back for another vote on the provision. The house also stood firm in its opposition to the senate amendment authorizing construction of two airplane carriers, voting, 141 to 4, to further insist upon its disagreement to the item.

Heated debate developed over the amendment. Representative Mann declared that he would rather have one airplane carrier in the navy than ten battleships, while Representative Mondell, Republican leader, and Chairman Butler of the Naval Affairs committee, contended that authorization for a carrier should not be carried in an appropriation bill.

The house concurred in a number of minor items which are favored by the senate, but its refusal to agree to the Pacific coast provisions and the airplane carrier amendment necessitates sending the bill back to the senate.

UNDERTAKER TO FACE QUIZ IN VET'S BURIAL

J. E. Seale, Fullerton undertaker, has been cited to appear before the board of supervisors next Tuesday, it was learned today, to answer questions concerning a demand for $75 filed by him for the burial of an overseas soldier, whose body was recently brought from France and buried at Fullerton.

The supervisors want to know why the claim of $75 should have been filed with the county when the federal government pays the entire expenses of the transportation of the body and of the funeral.

The information received by the county officials is that the federal government makes an allowance of $100 for the expenses from the time the body arrives at the station until interment is made.

Under State Law
The claim of $75 presented to the county was made by the Fullerton undertaker under a state law that has been in operation for a number of years. This law provides that when any former soldier, sailor or marine of the United States dies an indigent, the county shall provide proper burial. Burial must not be in a pauper lot. The charge against the county under the law must not be more than $75.

In order to operate under this act, the board of supervisors must appoint somebody as its agent or inspector. This agent must file with the board of supervisors with the claim of the undertaker a statement certifying that the soldier, sailor or marine died an indigent.

In the case of the overseas soldier recently buried at Fullerton, a statement was filed by O. V. Knowlton of Fullerton, who is the agent named by the board of supervisors, to the effect that the soldier died without funds.

Referred to Supervisors
The claim was referred by the board of supervisors to County Aid Commissioner W. S. Gregg for a report. Gregg's report will be made to the supervisors next Tuesday at 10:30 o'clock, at which hour Seale is cited to appear. He said today that he had no statement to make previous to that time.

In the case of the overseas soldier, Gregg's report will doubtless show that the government allowance of $100 was more than ample for all expenses of the funeral, and moreover that the overseas soldier was not to be classed as never should have been classed as an indigent. While he may have died leaving no property of his own, his parents were able to pay the expenses of burial had the government not made provision in this case, as it does in all other cases of the return of the bodies of overseas men.

FINAL ACCOUNTING IN HEWES EST. GRANTED

Superior Judge Z. B. West today granted the petition for a final accounting of the estate of David Hewes and continued the petition for distribution for one week.

Hewes, who died in 1915, left an estate valued at more than $2,000,000. He made his will in 1902, and one of his heirs, Charles W. Hewes, a nephew, died before the testator.

To Charles W., he bequeathed $11,000. Charles H. Hewes and Edna E. Dealey, son and daughter of Charles W., petitioned the court for a distribution of this sum.

It is understood that a provision of the will provided that $6,000 of the $11,000 should go to the widow of Charles W. in case of his death and that the remaining $5,000 go to the building of a home for Charles W. if he should be alive at a certain time.

The contention of the petitioners was that this sum had not been distributed. Executors of the estate would not concede this.

MAN SOUGHT IN CAR TRAGEDY ARRIVES

After a grilling trip in an automobile from Sacramento across the hot stretch of country lying between that city and Santa Ana, W. H. Clarkson reached here this morning shortly after ten o'clock, almost exhausted. The trip was taken in response to a message notifying him of the death of Mrs. Emma Wright as a result of being struck by the car he was driving on the Irvine boulevard more than a week ago.

Clarkson was starting on his vacation at the time the accident occurred and Mrs. Wright, who had left the stage in which she was traveling and was seeking a shady spot on the opposite side of the road from where the stage was drawn up for repairs, was struck and fatally injured by Clarkson's car.

Clarkson later continued his trip north only to receive a telegram notifying him of the death of Mrs. Wright.

He left Sacramento at 5 o'clock Tuesday for the return trip, on which he was accompanied by S. E. Culp, who was a passenger in his car at the time of the accident. The two men had many delays on the return trip due to car trouble, which explained their late arrival in Santa Ana.

Due to the absence of one of the members of the coroner's jury, the inquest over the body of Mrs. Wright, which was to have been completed immediately on their arrival, was postponed by Coroner Charles D. Brown until next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Clarkson and Culp were to leave this afternoon for their homes in San Diego, to remain until time for the inquest, Tuesday.

Funeral services for Mrs. Wright were held in Long Beach this afternoon.

are in charge of Captain Arthur E. Koepsel, First Lt. Jesse Elliott and Second Lt. Harry Pritchard. The big camp will be conducted exactly like a regular army cantonment with army officers in charge of much of the training. The guardsmen will receive approximately $2 a day while in camp beside having all expenses paid.

The camp will last until July 25. Last year the encampment was held at Santa Cruz in September, but as the national guard enlistments end this August it was decided to hold the camp much earlier this year, in order that all of the men might get the two weeks' added experience of regular camp life.

IS BOBBED HAIR INEFFICIENCY SIGN? VIEWS HERE DIFFER

S. A. Employers Tell Opinions as to Fashion of Clipped Locks

SAY ALL MUST BE NEAT

Some Business Men Averse to Hiring Maids With Tresses Lopped Off

Has the knell on bobbed hair been sounded?

Have Santa Ana employers of girls and women turned their thumbs down on the pretty little creature with the childish coiffure?

It is said that some Eastern corporations have signified their disapproval of the close-clipped locks for their women employees, and several edicts have gone forth, which serve to discourage all thought of a like frivolity on the part of those sisters who have not yet sacrificed their crowning glory to the monster, fashion, who said, "bobbed hair for women."

Are Western employers of a like mind, or does the wide vision of the West extend to such matters also? At the Taylor cannery where there are more than 100 girls employed in different capacities, it would seem that the question might arise, if anywhere. But when propounded to F. H. Taylor, the first reply to the query elicited was a laugh.

"Certainly we pay a great deal of attention to externals," stated Taylor after he had really enjoyed the laugh.

Must Be Neat
"Naturally our girls must be characterized by a certain neatness and daintiness of appearance," he continued, "but when it comes to how they are minded to dress their hair, we feel that we have nothing to say, and so we obey the old precept and say it."

"Nor do we have any prejudice against bobbed hair in itself and since neatness is almost our first requisite what could be neater in comparison with the present day modes of hair dressing, than the close cropped locks of the ultra modern society girl?"

"No indeed, it would never be thought of by us as an objection to any girl applying for a place with us."

At the Rankin store, where there are never less than thirty girls employed, the opinion was expressed by J. H. Rankin that employers generally are inclined to look with disfavor on the bobbed hair.

"As a business house our entire policy is toward the conservative," he stated, "and that particular fall of the moment can scarcely be called conservative. We have no hard and fast rules, however, although the store is at present getting out a little book of rules to govern the appearance of our employees, and the matter will be touched upon in that."

Favors Unshorn Ones
"I will confess to being swayed in my judgment to this point, that, were two girls to appear for a certain place, one with a neat and becoming hair dressing and one with bobbed hair, all things else being equal, I would unhesitatingly choose the one with the uncut hair."

"We have thirty girls in the First National bank alone," said W. B. Williams, cashier of that institution, "all of them are good and efficient, and some of them have had bobbed hair. I can't see a particle of difference between the efficiency"

Family Physician of County Bees Says Their Health Is Good

Bees of Orange county are a healthy and vigorous lot. They are as nearly free from disease as it is possible to keep them, and their efforts to make honey under adverse conditions the last three months are truly admirable.

County Bee Inspector J. E. Pleasants, who is the physician and health officer of the honey bees of this county, said today that in the last month he has found but one stand of foul brood in the hundreds of stands that he has inspected. That stand was promptly destroyed. The general good health of the bees is due to the fact that Inspector Pleasants is always on his job.

"It has not been a good year in the mountains for honey making," he said. "Some of the apiarists took out honey, but the yield was very light. The bees did the best they could with cloudy days and the spring dry spell holding them."

WORK OF TEARING UP NORTH MAIN PAVING STARTED WITH RUSH

Tearing up and removal of the old pavement on Main street, from Seventh street north to the city limits, was under way today.

George R. Curtis, contractor, has started the work with a rush and expects to complete the job in the quickest time possible.

The west side of the street is being torn up and it is understood that as soon as the material is removed public utilities will enter upon this side of the street to do whatever work is necessary to place their systems in perfect condition so that it will not be necessary soon to tear up the new pavement for installations and repairs. The east side will be treated in the same manner without delay.

Gas, water and sewer connections will be made with every vacant lot and connections now in place will be either replaced or repaired. With the start of work by Curtis, repaving is in progress on Main street from First north to the city limits, the improvement being in various stages of development. The concrete base is being laid between First and Fourth and the old pavement is being torn up north of Fourth in preparation for laying a heavier pavement.

TEACHERS CONFER ON CHILDREN AND MUSIC

OAKLAND, July 8.—The place of the American child in the world of music was the general topic of discussion at the eleventh annual convention of the Music Teachers' association of California.

Warnings were given by Edward Pease, president of the organization, that the music teachers of the state must get together to improve their work, in view of the efficient work being carried on in the California public schools.

HOOVER'S NEWSPAPER BACKS TREATY CLAUSE

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Under the title of "What Next?" the leading editorial of the Washington Herald, of which Herbert Hoover is one of the principal owners, today demanded ratification of the economic clauses of the treaty of Versailles.

Whether the secretary of commerce wrote the editorial is not known. It does, however, correspond with the treaty views which he is known to hold along with Secretary Hughes in opposition to irreconcilable senatorial opinion that peace with Germany should be concluded by a separate treaty of "amity and commerce" without mention of the Versailles treaty.

VICTORS IN BIG LIBRARY FIGHT PLAN SYSTEM

Make Books Accessible to All Rural Districts, Is Object

Feeling that a definite step toward the materialization of the county free library has been taken with the appointment of Miss Anne Bell Bailey of Redwood City as librarian, the fourth district Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations is formulating plans and ideas that will make the library accessible to all of rural districts.

According to Mrs. Earl Morris, of Santa Ana, one of the prime movers in the long fight waged before the supervisors for the establishment of the institution, branch libraries will be established wherever they may be desired.

Miss Bailey, the librarian, will make her headquarters in Santa Ana, but will be a frequent visitor to each branch library. Some of the smaller towns in the county have already picked an office or home that will be utilized as a branch library. The Santa Ana headquarters has not yet been decided on.

S. A. To Be Base
It is not known at this time just how many books will be ordered to form the nucleus for the library. This is a matter that is to be left to the discretion of the librarian. The greater number of the books, however, will be kept in the Santa Ana branch. Any book desired by a resident of the smaller towns may be had upon application, distribution being made free of charge.

A tax levy of two cents on every $100 of assessed valuation will supply the necessary funds for the books and other expenses incident to the operating expenses. This tax levy applies to rural districts only and does not include incorporated cities, which have their own libraries. The tax levy will be executed some time in August and collections will follow in due course.

Miss Bailey, recently appointed by the supervisors as the county free librarian, will take up her duties here on or about August 1. Her salary will be $1800 a year, this being the only library expense that will come out of the general county fund.

One of 8 Recommended
Miss Bailey is one of eight women who were recommended for the position. Because of her excellent recommendations she was suggested for appointment by Supervisor Howard Wassum and seconded by Supervisor Schumacher.

The battle for the library continued over a period of two years. About two months ago the project seemed lost when the supervisors voted to reconsider their resolution establishing the library.

This step was taken after scores of letters had been received voicing objection to the library because of the additional tax levy.

The fourth district Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher associations refused to back down, however, and appeared frequently before the supervisors with arguments in favor of their project.

This organization felt that it had won its battle when the supervisors last Tuesday appointed a librarian. Loud applause greeted this action.

Supervisors Finley and Edwards have opposed the library practically from the outset because of the increased taxation.

Supervisors Talbert, Schumacher and Wassum favored the project.

Brea Folk Elated
In commenting on the establishment of a branch county library at Brea, the Rev. W. E. Spicer, pastor of the Christian church, speaking for the community in general, said: "It is with great joy that the board and to the faithful work of Mrs. Earl Morris, president of the county Parent-Teacher association, and to Mrs. Charles Harvey, chairman of the library committee here, that the people of Brea rejoice in the successful outcome of the county free library movement."

"Brea people are in touch with many parts of the county and have wanted the county free library for all of the non-library districts, embracing, as they do, half the population of the county."

"With the many new buildings now going up here, it should not be a problem to house the Brea Branch."

"Orange county, said to be the twelfth in wealth in the United States and third in the least taxation in California, has joined the forty-five forward-looking counties of California on this best and most economical plan for promotion of citizenship intelligence through popular libraries."

FAIL TO UNDERSTAND LAW, SAYS FORDNEY

WASHINGTON, July 8.—An announcement from Paris that France had forwarded a protest from the French chamber of commerce against a provision of the emergency tariff bill authorizing American agents to examine the books of French firms exporting to the United States, brought conflicting statements from the leaders in the fight on the permanent tariff bill, which includes substantially the same provision.

Chairman Fordney of the ways and means committee declared that the French attitude was based on a misunderstanding of the law. Representative Garner of Texas, a Democratic member of the committee, said the examination provision was "just a part of the program of high-tariff advocates to bar all imports by one means or another."

Flowers and Ministers In High Favor; Judge Cox Must Beware!

There is a difference between the weddings of the summer of 1920 and the weddings of the summer of 1921.

The difference is—flowers. "In June last year," said William P. Joplin, who grows hundreds of beautiful gladioli, "the proper thing seemed to be to go to the justice of the peace and be married as quickly as possible."

"This year," explained Joplin, "the proper thing is a much more beautiful affair. The justice of the peace doesn't do for the Santa Ana wedding this summer. It must be a minister who ties the knot, and the ceremony must be done 'mid beautiful flowers.'"

Flower dealers agree with Joplin's description of the trend of the minds of brides-to-be. There must be flowers at the wedding. If the wedding is to be just what it ought to be.

Whereupon, it is fitting that someone suggest to Justice of the Peace Cox that if he wishes to hold his marriage business he had best be buying bouquets for his courtroom instead of for any sweet damsels of the movie game who happens to be sent to jail for speeding.

PERSONS LIVING NEAR PARK SLEEP AGAIN AS SECT MEETS BREAK UP

Persons living in the vicinity of the Pentacostal band tent on Third street, opposite Birch park, stated today that their sleep was undisturbed last night for the first time since the city council granted the religious sect a permit to conduct meetings, some three weeks ago.

Acting on instructions from Commissioner of Police J. W. Tubbs, City Motorcycle Officer Frank Stewart yesterday evening served notice on the leader of the Pentacostal band that pursuant to the revocation of the permit granted by the city council the meetings would have to cease forthwith.

The religious director bowed to the law and said that as soon as his congregation put in its usual appearance the band would move "en masse" to its location on Spruce street, between First and Second street. He said that the people of that neighborhood never objected to the manner in which the meetings were held.

It was understood that the tent would be removed today or tomorrow.

PASTOR IN SERMONS TO SIFT LOVE ROWS

Why divorce? Will the strong undertow of divorce swamp the American home? What is the spiritual status of the divorce? Is the minister performing a Christian ceremony when he remarries those who have broken sacred vows for other than Bible reasons?

These and other questions of like nature, it was announced today, will be discussed by the Rev. John Oliver, pastor of the First Methodist church, in a series of sermons beginning Sunday evening.

The Rev. Mr. Oliver has made a study of the divorce situation in its relation to the home and childhood and feels the church owes it to itself, and especially to its young folk, to help fashion and preserve the true ideal home life.

"Where are we going?" asks the Rev. Mr. Oliver. "There are fifty-seven counties in America that have more than one divorce to every three marriages, and in some counties there have more than one divorce to every two marriages; and six counties that have more divorces than marriages! Are the young people getting the wrong ideals of home in their courtship? Is the government of New Zealand right in considering every unmarried man a potential social danger? What is the matter with our love relations?"

The pastor will discuss "Fundamental Ideas and Ideals in Courtship and Marriage Essential to the Living Union of One Man with One Woman" and will preach three or four sermons on this subject.

MEXICAN SEAMEN HELD FOR MUTINY

JERSEY CITY, July 8.—Seven Mexican seamen from the tanker Harvest, arrested on the steamship's arrival at Bayonne last week on charges of mutiny, are held without bail for the grand jury.

The men were charged with attacking Andrew Grieve, first assistant engineer.

PREDICT EARLY END FOR MARINE STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—Belief is expressed in marine circles here that the end of the marine strike, affecting 125 steam schooners, most of them engaged in bringing lumber down the coast to San Francisco, will be brought to a close some time today. About 3,000 men are affected. Negotiations between the owners and the union chiefs was carried over from yesterday, and are still in progress. Beyond expressing the belief that "the strike is nearly over," the union chiefs would issue no statement. The owners were also silent regarding the terms of the proposed settlement.

The convention of the international organization of carmen will be held in Atlanta, beginning September 12.

DO WOMEN HERE SMOKE? SCRIBE SEEKS ANSWER

Some Tobacconists Admit That a Very Few Fair Ones Buy Cigarettes

"Do ladies of Santa Ana smoke?" The old-fashioned person, distinguishing the difference between the word "lady" and the word "woman," no doubt will answer the question by saying that no lady would smoke.

But putting aside distinctions of meaning, the fact remains that the cigarette habit among women of Santa Ana has failed to gain a foothold.

It is reported that in the past year or two the smoking of cigarettes in public by women of large cities has become noticeable.

Two or three days ago a dispatch from Bismarck, N. D., stated that an ordinance had been passed by that city prohibiting smoking in any cafe, hotel dining-room or dining car in the presence of women. The purpose of the law, said the dispatch, was to prevent women from smoking in a public eating place.

Almost Unknown Practice
When interviewed, proprietors of cafes, restaurants and hotels in Santa Ana said that smoking by women at their places is almost unknown.

Occasionally some woman passing through Santa Ana stops here for a meal, and follows it with a cigarette.

But if there are smokers among the women of Santa Ana, they do not smoke in public.

But do they in the privacy of their own homes indulge in cigarettes? And if they do, how do they get them?

Certainly, according to the word of those who sell smokes at Santa Ana cigar stands, the sales of cigarettes to women in Santa Ana would not bring profit enough in a month to pay the hire of a single clerk for a day.

Rutherford Says No
S. T. Rutherford, cigar store man, dropped his feet from their comfortable position on the counter. The stool on which he was sitting hit the floor with a decisive thump as he answered the question with an imperative "No."

Then as the reporter's head cautiously reappeared above the counter, Rutherford's brown face and close cropped white beard joined in a broad smile.

"At least," he said, "in the past eight years I have not sold more than a dozen packages of cigarettes to Santa Ana women. There are some old ladies here who smoke pipes, I have heard. But I have not sold tobacco to them."

D. E. Caul, salesman at C. S. Kelley drug store across the street, remarked:

Twelve a Week
"Twelve packages of cigarettes are sold to women over this counter on an average each week."

D. M. Loveridge, manager of the New Rossmore hotel, said:

"About a year ago, a company of motion picture people were here and they asked permission to smoke in the dining room. But though I have no rule against it, and this dining room has been open nineteen months, I do not believe any local woman has smoked here."

"Hardly a day goes past that I do not sell cigarettes to women, but they are transients."

St. Ann's Inn, of which William Hewins is proprietor, kept a safe lid on the fence.

No Local Women
"Women smoke in the dining room here," it was stated, "and occasionally in the lounge. Many of our visitors are accustomed to it. How habit and nothing of it. However, we never have seen a local woman associate with Lady Nicotine while dining here."

One cigar counter in town is looked after by a saleslady, Mrs. Erika Vermeulen, at White Cross drug store.

"I would not say, they do smoke, nor would I say they don't," she said. "I cannot remember selling cigarettes to a Santa Ana lady during the past year."

W. H. James, proprietor of James's cafe, repressed a look of surprise.

"No Santa Ana lady has ever smoked here," he said. "I do not believe they smoke. My rule has been for the past five years, no smoking in this cafe. Banquets, social affairs and business dinners are held here, but never has there been the unpleasant necessity of quoting this rule to a Santa Ana lady patron."

Ed O. Enlow, proprietor of the Spurgeon building cigar store, said that he sold some cigarettes to women frequently. He found that those who smoke change their choice of cigarettes often.

P. E. PLANS NEW CAR SERVICE TO BEACH

The Pacific Electric Railway company, it was announced today, has acceded to the request of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce that trolley service between here and Huntington Beach be bettered.

Starting September 1, the Pacific Electric will put on an extra car between Santa Ana and the beach city. The car will leave Huntington Beach at 8 a. m. and returning will leave Santa Ana at 4 p. m.

Efforts by the Chamber of Commerce in this connection followed requests from residents along the line asking the local body to take up with company officials the matter of improved trolley service.

The extra car service is designed to accommodate school children attending school in Santa Ana. It is to be given a three months' trial.

Should patronage warrant it, the service will be maintained and other cars will be added. If patronage accords the line is deemed insufficient, the extra service will be dropped.

Seek Street Betterment.
The directors of the Chamber of Commerce have authorized Secretary J. C. Metzger to write to the city council and the board of supervisors asking that steps be taken at once to improve West Santa Clara avenue and North Flower street to Chapman street.

A satisfactory traffic artery while North Main street is being paved, is the object sought. Forty new members were added to the chamber last month, as follows:

L. T. Clem, lumber dealer; E. G. Summers, lumber dealer; M. P. Miller, Victory cafe; C. O. Hildebrand, manager Kafeteria Shoe store; P. E. Fuller, Central Auto livery; George

PICTURE ADDRESS ON NOTE TO GIRL

With a picture clipped from a rotogravure section of a Los Angeles paper as an address, J. F. Harvey, mail superintendent of Santa Ana post office, today forwarded a letter to Tustin.

The letter came from Mocorito, Sinaloa, Mex. That fact is shown by the postmark. The name of the sender is a secret that doubtless will be disclosed by the girl who opens the letter.

Some weeks ago there appeared in the Los Angeles paper a picture of a group of high school girls partaking of a bountiful luncheon on the lawn of Santa Ana high school. The picture of one of these girls was clipped out by the lonesome man down in Sinaloa. It was pasted upon the outside of the letter, and below it was written "Santa Ana, Orange County, California, E. U. de A."

On receiving the letter, Santa Ana post office officials were stumped. None recognized the picture. Ivis Stein was called in, and Ivis declared the picture was rotogravure, not a kodak picture, and that it was from the high school group. Harvey found a high school girl who completed the identification. The young lady lives at Tustin.

What's in the letter?

That will be up to the young lady to tell, if she will.

The curiosity of some several mail clerks at Santa Ana post office has been aroused, and probably this piece in the paper will do a little curiosity whetting, too.

DELINQUENCY OF BOYS, GIRLS TO BE DISCUSSED BY TRUSTEES OF SCHOOLS

County Educational Folk to Talk Over Parental School Need at Meet

ALSO TO CONSIDER LAWS

Delegates Will Tell Stand On Districts Joining H. S. Districts

"Are juvenile offenders in Orange county increasing in number?"

With men and women of Orange county closely identified with the school activities in every district in the county scheduled to assemble here next Wednesday, and the subject of the establishment of a parental school being on the program for discussion, it is expected that this question will be as nearly determined at the meeting as it will be possible to decide it without definite statistical records.

The assemblage next week will be the annual convention of trustees of the schools of Orange county. It will be held at the armory Wednesday, opening at 9 o'clock and the afternoon session closing not later than 4 o'clock.

Discussion of the parental school is scheduled for 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and it is expected that a large number of persons other than those directly connected with the schools will be present. Recent suggestion that such an institution should be provided in the county has met with hearty response and it is declared that there are many organizations which will get behind the movement.

Clubs Active in Move
The Kiwanis and Rotary clubs of this city have had the delinquency problem brought to their attention through the appointment of committees to investigate, look after and try and assist near delinquents. It has been stated in public meetings by persons who are competent to judge the situation that delinquency is on the increase among the boys and girls of the county.

It is the opinion of those who favor the project that a parental school would prove more effective in correction of the tendency of those disposed to waywardness than are any of the state institutions maintained for such cases.

It is believed that a large percentage of the boys and girls who start on the wrong path can be saved under the influence of a school close at home. To send a delinquent to an institution many miles from home is against the best interest of the child, in the opinion of many who have expressed themselves on the question.

Benefits Offset Cost
It is claimed that the small increase in taxes that establishment of such a home might impose on taxpayers will result later in lowering the rate by reason of the school making good on the money out of boys and girls sent to the school, whereas if they were permitted to continue in their ways they might become criminals and charges on the county and society.

Another topic on the program which was announced today by R. P. Mitchell, superintendent of county schools, and which will be of general interest, is as to whether school districts should join the county library, now that the library is to be instituted August 1. It is expected that this will draw forth animated discussion by the trustees who will be present. The library will by no means be inaugurated with unanimous approval of all sections of the county, for a number of organizations went on record by adoption of resolutions in opposition

They're Off In Big Campaign for Bikes

Twenty-eight Live Wires Beat Bushes for New Register Subscribers

Jackson Kuhn Leads List First Day of Drive—Little Miss of Seven Years Vies With Older Hustlers for Honors—Four Garden Grove Solicitors at Work.

As they used to say at the Derby races—"They're Off!" This morning the list of live wires who are out after new Register subscribers and new Indian Bicycles contained twenty-eight names. A good many more names will no doubt be added before the day is over.

Nearly all the twenty-eight had reported fine progress before noon today. Several of them say they expect to be riding their fine new bike before the end of next week. Won't that be fine? A splendid $85.00 Indian bicycle earned in less than two weeks—only working part time at that! It would not be surprising if some of the hustlers claimed their bicycle sooner than that.

The leader of the whole force this morning was Jackson Kuhn, of 615 East Fourth street. The first three hours he worked Jackson brought in five new subscriptions. Easy? Just like pushing a little chicken in the creek. Five subs in three hours amounts to forty-five in twenty-four hours. If Jackson works all day tomorrow like he did the first three hours he will earn his bike before sundown. Does anybody know how a boy or girl can earn $85.00 a day easier than that? But Jackson isn't the only one who is making a fine report. A whole flock of Indians will be passed out in a few days if they keep up the present pace.

The youngest solicitor on the job this morning was little Miss Peggy Warburton, aged seven summers.

Yesterday she came into The Register office and said to Mr. Packard, the circulation man:

"That's the kind of a bicycle I want, right there—" just like that. And if winning manners and curls carry any weight Peggy will have the bike in short order.

Plenty of Bikes For All
The fine thing about this bicycle campaign is that everybody has a chance to get first prize. In fact all prizes are first prize. There are enough bicycles to meet the demands of every boy and girl in Orange county. There is no element of chance in this campaign. Good or bad luck cuts no figure whatever. A horseshoe will not help any in earning these good bicycles—shoe leather and pep—that's the recipe for this cake.

The boys and girls of Orange county who think they could use a nice new Indian Bicycle are advised to get into the campaign at once.

Four boys in Garden Grove are working with good results. They are Allen Wisner, Gilbert Schwizer, Wm. Hewitt, Hubert Head.

Another out-of-town boy who will be among the first to get a bike is Robert McGuire of Huntington Beach. He has already made a good start and will have something interesting to report in a few days.

Bikes Easy to Earn
It is plain to see that these bicycles are going to be easy to get. All the boy or girl has to do is to get 45 people to agree to take The Register six months or longer. It isn't necessary to collect any money or pay any money out. The solicitor calls at The Register office or writes for some subscription blanks. Then he goes out and asks everybody in his neighborhood to subscribe for The Register. These blanks are turned in from day to day and as soon as the list reaches forty-five the solicitor is handed his new bike—and that's all there is to it.

But The Register realizes that it is not always possible to carry out good intentions. Some of these solicitors, through illness or other unavoidable causes, will fail to get their forty-five new subscribers. To those who, for any good reason, fail to earn a bike, The Register will pay cash for the work they have done.

The only stipulation is that the subscriptions that count must be from NEW subscribers only, and that the work be finished on or before September first, 1921. If one boy can get five subscribers in three hours most anyone certainly ought to get forty-five in two months. There will be no doubt about it if the solicitor starts out with the determination that he is GOING TO GET ONE OF THESE NEW BIKES WITHOUT DELAY. Let's see who gets the first one.

MATTHEWS BREAKS GAS MILEAGE SCORE

Earl Matthews, president and manager of the Orange County Ignition works, has broken his last mileage record. In his 1920 Studebaker Big Six, Matthews made an average of 20 4-5 miles on a gallon of gas.

"It was the Rayfield Carburetor that did the work," said Matthews. "Before I had my car equipped with the Rayfield, my mileage averaged twelve, fourteen and sometimes sixteen miles to the gallon, but that was before I put on a Rayfield, for which we are now agents. Sometime ago, I had the Rayfield Carburetor installed in my car and a test made. At that time, I made an average of 18 1-2 miles on a gallon.

"However, B. L. Wonder, our Rayfield expert, told me I could get even better mileage than that with proper adjustment, so last week I gave him permission to test out and readjust the carburetor.

"We made two tests, the first being made with a quart of gasoline, plus the amount already in the carburetor. This test showed as a result of 5 3-10 miles, or an average of 21 1-5 miles to the gallon. We then placed another quart of gasoline in the tank, the carburetor being absolutely dry, and re-started the car. This time we obtained an average of 5 3-10 miles before the car stopped, giving a total of 20 4-5 miles to the gallon.

"The test was made under ordinary conditions, going both with and against the wind, around corners and many other obstacles which more or less reduced the momentum, so I believe it was more than a fair test. I had as observer both Mr. Wonder and Stanley Reed."

Home Service

During the summer months, this store, as well as the other furniture stores of Orange County will close every Saturday at noon.

Service is the one thing that the more we give the more we have to give. It is something that cannot be rated too highly.

Into every home furnished by us goes a SERVICE, not that of a store to its patrons, but of an institution to its friends.

We feel the deepest interest in every customer, not the interest of a store, but the interest of a master worker in his problems. The problems of home furnishing of our patrons are our problems. We like to aid in solving them. May we assist you with your problems?

of those with bobbed hair and those without.

"Personally, I will have to confess that I am not fond of the special decoration, or perhaps I should say the lack of decoration, but undoubtedly a girl's personality is able to rise above her shorn locks—and it is personality that we are seeking.

"You know," he continued, "a business house judges almost entirely by appearance. I would never hire anyone without a personal interview. Anybody can get a wonderful letter of recommendation written by somebody, but a good appearance is as hard to counterfeit as a good ten dollar bill."

'One Disturbing Element'

"One disturbing element can soon disrupt our entire organization," stated E. L. Echley, of the Santa Ana Steam Laundry, where a large force of girls is employed. "Naturally we look deeper than outer appearances when employing new help, although appearance plays a large part in the personality for which we are constantly seeking. Hair dressing is non-essential just so that it be neat.

We make no discriminations against a girl with bobbed hair any more than we would against one who chose to allow her hair to hang in braids. Why should we question what is merely a matter of taste on the part of the person most concerned? And to prove that we are right in our stand of demanding neatness and personal cleanliness, we offer for the inspection of the entire public, what we think is a representative group of contented, refined home girls.

"Bobbed hair? Yes, personally I dislike it," stated E. S. Morrow of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. "It calls too many unpleasant pictures to my mind, but I certainly do not allow myself to be influenced by the dislike when it comes to employing operators with bobbed hair. We have some now and they are among our best operators, so there is no possibility of using it as an argument against efficiency.

'Really Doesn't Matter'

"In fact, in comparison with those masses of hair which so many of the girls seem to use to cover their ears, it is to be recommended for our particular line of work, for there is no little cushion of hair to be pushed back out of the way of the receiver so that a telephone conversation may be heard.

"And be the operator's hair worn high, low, straight or shaven, it isn't readily apparent over the phone."

Miss Lily Chaffey, chief operator, seconded his opinions.

"We always look for neatness of appearance," she stated, "for, because the girls are so far from the public gaze, they might have cause for a certain carelessness of appearance, and carelessness of appearance would imply a corresponding carelessness in work."

"I am sorry," said W. H. James of James' confectionery, "but I have an extreme aversion to bobbed hair, and except in extreme cases, I would most certainly refuse to employ a girl who had been so foolish as to sacrifice her hair to a fad.

"My clientele demands that the girls employed in the store are of refined appearance and personality and as for myself, I would never have a young lady in my employ whom I couldn't feel free to ask to my home as an associate for my own daughter.

"But, extreme though it may be, I must confess that the girl who

"The convention is the only opportunity the trustees of the various schools have for joint meeting and discussion of problems that confront those who are directly responsible for conduct of the schools," said Mitchell today. "For this reason I am urging upon every trustee the importance of attending the sessions.

Required to Attend
"Section 1566 of the political code provides that it shall be the duty of one school trustee of each district to attend the convention. All trustees are invited to attend. If no delegate is chosen the clerk of the district will be expected to attend. The traveling expense of one delegate from each district should be paid by the school district."

VETS QUIT SICK BEDS AS BOOZE TURNS TO TEA

United Press Leased Wire
SAN FRANCISCO, July 8. — The Letterman Military hospital here has been receiving a great influx of ailing soldiers for the past week, largely, it is said, in anticipation of the arrival of a consignment of $25,000 worth of whiskey which Federal Judge Maurice Dooling had ordered turned over to the hospital by the prohibition enforcement authorities.

The whiskey had been seized in raids, the owners had been either fined for bootlegging, or sent to jail. The whiskey was all supposed to be bonded stuff.

The whiskey was taken to the hospital in a truck yesterday afternoon and attendants uncorked a number of bottles of it and began to administer it to the patients. One sip out of a teaspoon soon convinced large numbers of soldiers that the Letterman hospital wasn't all that it is cracked up to be and a large number of exceptionally quick recoveries were reported.

The "whiskey" turned out to be nothing more than tea.

Whether the bootleggers were convicted for selling the beverages that made Sir Thomas Lipton famous or someone with access to the storerooms of the prohibition enforcement authorities removed the contents of the bottles and left the substitute for looks, has not yet been determined. Prohibition Director Enclinos, however, proposes to find out, and predicts that the result will be a shakeup that "some one" will remember for a long time.

TO TAKE OVER MILL
H. R. Yerxa, prominent business man of Redlands, will take over the Anaheim planing mill Monday, it was stated here today. He will be joined later in the week by his brother-in-law, R. B. Young, general manager of the Wausau, Wis., mill of the Curtis and Yale company, largest woodworking manufacturers in the United States. The two men will entirely renovate the planing mill at Anaheim, installing new machinery, and plan to employ between twenty-five and thirty men.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

LONG BEACH—An application has been filed with the state railroad commission by the Associated Telephone company of Long Beach and San Bernardino asking that the company be given authority to discontinue the installing of telephones for public use at the premises of subscribers at flat monthly rates.

SAN BERNARDINO—San Bernardino's new ornamental lighting system on Third street cost the city $449 for operation during June, the first month they were lighted, City Electrician Harry Rouse said. The cost of electricity during June can hardly be accepted as a monthly average, however, Rouse said, because during winter months—shorter days—the lights will necessarily be operated longer hours.

ONTARIO—Signally honored in that she is the first woman ever to be thus recognized, Miss Lillian Halfpenny, well-known Ontario girl and daughter of W. H. Halfpenny, 228 West H street, who is now at home on leave of absence from her missionary duties in Tientsin, China, is in receipt of a handsome medal and certificate from the Chinese government for the part taken by her some months ago in flood relief work in China. The medal is a handsome affair of gold base with a cross and laurel wreath, done in red, white, blue and green enamel and bearing an inscription in Chinese.

REDLANDS—Ku Klux Klan may invade Redlands, and again it may not. An organizer from the headquarters of the organization, somewhere back on the south coast, was in Redlands a few days ago, but no one seems very certain just who he is or when he came. It is understood he did not meet with a vast amount of success and left, planning to come back in a month or so and complete a local unit, chapter, or whatever city ku-kluxes are called.

LOS ANGELES—The Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad company was authorized by the railroad commission to construct and maintain tracks at grade across certain streets and alleys and across the tracks of the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe in the city of Los Angeles. The streets at which grade-crossing is permitted are: Fifteenth, Fourteenth, Eleventh, Tenth, Ninth, and the alley between Hunter and Ninth. Hunter and Lawrence. The railroad crossings are across the Santa Fe south of Sixteenth, across two spur tracks of the same company at Fourteenth and at Lawrence street and across one spur track of the Southern Pacific north of Sixteenth street.

WOMAN'S LEGION CHIEF VOICES ACTION CALL

Urging a keener spirit of co-operation between the American Legion posts and their auxiliaries, Mrs. Carol Marks, state president of the Legion auxiliary, delivered the principal address at the regular meeting of the local auxiliary held at the armory last night.

Other speakers of the evening were the Rev. W. L. H. Benton, rector of the Church of the Messiah, Mrs. Elizabeth Drenell, state secretary and treasurer of the auxiliary, and Major M. B. Wellington, commander of Santa Ana Post No. 131, Mrs. Sydney Saunby, president of the local auxiliary, presided.

Burton R. Pitts, state commander of the American Legion, who was scheduled to address the meeting, did not appear. According to Major Wellington, Pitts was taken suddenly ill in the northern part of the state and was subject to an operation.

Mrs. Marks cheerfully reminded the audience that this was not her first appearance in Santa Ana, she having been present when the auxiliary was instituted several months ago.

Not Only For K. P. Duty
Most of the Legion boys have been imbued with the idea that the auxiliary was organized for K. P. duty only," said Mrs. Marks. "Now of course we are ready and willing to do K. P. anytime for the boys, but our service extends further than that."

"The thing I wish to bring about is better co-operation between the Legion posts and their various auxiliaries. Our problems are mutual and both organizations are working for civic improvement and general betterment of the different communities."

"I would have the posts and auxiliaries meet at the same time and place. After the business sessions the men could join the women in a social hour. We could combine our energies in community drives and accomplish many things by working together."

Mrs. Marks told of the visits of the different auxiliary units to hospitals where ex-service men are being cared for.

Many Make Mistake
She related some of the practical ways devised for treating the boys who have been scarred by the war. Many women, she said, have made the mistake of giving the boys things they have no use for. It is the practical thing that counts, she said.

A special effort is now being made by the auxiliary units, Mrs. Marks said, to urge the ex-service men to take up the vocational training offered by the government. An effort is also being made to induce the boys to keep up their insurance. The membership of the auxiliary, she said, had doubled in the last six months.

The Rev. Mr. Benton spoke on "Patriotism." He said that that is one thing that cannot be defined. It must come from the heart, from love of country, he said, and be absolutely an unselfish inclination. There is no such a thing as a hyphenated American, he said.

Reviews History
The Rev. Mr. Benton reviewed historical facts incident to the wars in which the United States has been involved and praised the valor of the American soldier. He said that he was glad the American Legion backed the Frenchman in the recent prizefight at Jersey City because Dempsey did not answer the call to the colors in the great war.

Major Wellington stated that the woman's auxiliary to the American Legion was making great strides throughout the state and that it was growing rapidly. Its representation at the coming state convention, he said, would be greater than last year. He said he was very proud of the showing that it is making in its work. The local post of the legion now has a membership of 510, he said, as compared with 484 a year ago.

Reads Report
Mrs. Drenell read an encouraging financial report. She also told of the work being done by the auxiliary in caring for the sick and disabled soldiers, visits to hospitals, etc.

Stanley Reed, chairman of the production committee of the local post of the Legion, made a plea for the assistance of the auxiliary in putting on the Legion show here next Fall. The show, he said, is to be called "The Follies of Santa Ana."

Mrs. Saunby assured Reed that the post could depend on the auxiliary for any aid it might desire.

The business session was preceded by dance interpretations by a group of young local dance artists. Mrs. Maude Putnam, of Hollywood, had charge of the entertainment. The dances brought a round of applause from the audience.

Dancing and refreshments terminated the evening.

HEARING IN BATTERY CASE IS DEFERRED

The hearing of the battery charge against Joseph R. Aguilar, Spaniard, which was scheduled to come up in the justice court here this morning, was continued to August 9 at 2 o'clock because of the reported illness of the defendant's wife, who is the complaining witness.

Aguilar today flatly denied a published report that he was a convert of the apostle Peter, one of the twelve "apostles" of Brother Isaiah, so-called "miracle man." He admitted, however, that he was acquainted with the "apostle" and that he had faith in his religious teachings.

The defendant also declared that he is not an Indian, although the police records list him as such. He says that he is a Spaniard. He denies that he struck his wife, as she charges, and repudiates her statement that he brought shoes or handkerchiefs blessed by the apostle into their home.

The handkerchiefs, he said, were brought no closer to the house than his front yard.

BENJAMIN TO RESIGN AS STATE CHAIRMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—Raymond Benjamin, San Francisco attorney, stated here that he plans to resign within the next three months as Republican regional director, and as California Republican state chairman, to devote his entire time to law practice.

Benjamin stated that a further reason for his wanting to resign his political positions was "that my health will not stand the strain."

"Just as soon as I can help put across some of the men who worked hard for our political success, and see that they receive the appointments they deserve, I am going to get completely out of the political games," he declared.

COUNTY HOSPITAL NURSES GRADUATE

Exercises that were both beautiful and impressive marked the graduation of Miss Katherine Pohndorf of Tustin and Miss Ruth Kohler of Garden Grove from the nurses' training school of the Orange county hospital.

The exercises were held in the hospital chapel Wednesday evening of this week. The chapel was beautifully decorated in Harding blue crepe paper and with yellow and white flowers. The class colors are Harding blue and yellow.

The program included songs by Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, prayer by C. C. Collins, talks by Dr. F. W. Slabaugh and Dr. Albert C. Zaiser, presentation of diplomas by Dr. H. E. Zaiser, superintendent of the hospital, and the presentation of pins by Miss Beatrice Grant, matron of the hospital.

Following the exercises at the chapel, a luncheon was served at the nurses' home near the hospital.

The training received by students at the county hospital is thorough and along varied lines. Dr. Zaiser, superintendent, and Miss Grant, matron, are exceptionally well qualified, by disposition as well as training, as instructors.

The graduation of Miss Pohndorf and Miss Kohler leaves room for the enrollment of new student nurses at the hospital. These young women have finished three-year student courses. The nurses starting now will be enabled to graduate in two years and eight months, a new state law having shortened the course four months. At present there are twelve student nurses at the county hospital.

'CECILLE BRUNNER' WILL HAVE TO SUE

"Cecille Brunner," Balboa woman arrested and charged with being an inmate of a house of ill repute at the time of the recent raid by local officers on a dwelling occupied by negroes in this city, will have to bring suit against the city if she desires to attempt to clear her name and secure a refund of the $50 she paid as a fine following her plea of guilty.

This is the decision of the city council, it was learned today, following a conference with Special Counsel Clyde Bishop. Bishop informed the council that so far as concerns the request of the woman for a refund of her fine and public acknowledgment that the officers erred when they arrested her, the council has nothing before it for consideration.

Attorney Daniel Noland, who has represented the woman in negotiations with the city council, today was being advised by letter that "Miss Brunner" has nothing before the city council.

The woman's counsel has stated that she was at the house occupied by the negroes for the purpose of securing one of the inmates as a domestic, the woman sought having formerly been employed at Balboa by her.

It is alleged that on the advice of the detective who arranged the raid, "Cecille Brunner" pleaded guilty and paid her fine. She declares that she entered the plea of guilty as a means of avoiding publicity.

LINERS SLASH RATE ON GRAIN FOR ORIENT

PORTLAND, Ore., July 8.—A cut of $1 a ton on wheat and flour shipments to the Orient, announced yesterday by the Columbia Westbound conference, becomes effective today, according to the local steamship men's association.

The cut from this port follows news of a similar cut by San Francisco companies yesterday, although an incipient rate war is denied. The rate will now be $6 a ton on wheat and flour to regular ports of call in Japan, China and the Philippine Islands.

SEES BIG FUTURE FOR COUNTY'S PORT

A harbor is one of the greatest assets any community can have.

Certain lines of manufacturing especially, such as the cotton, shoe, tanning and hardwood industries, will in the future locate in Southern California because of nearness to raw materials.

These statements, made by W. S. Wheaton, Santa Ana agent for the Union Pacific (Salt Lake), at a meeting of the Newport Beach Chamber of Commerce, were being recalled today by members of that organization.

Other highlights in Wheaton's address, on "Transportation," follow: "Where commerce develops the navy is shoved aside, and the navy will eventually be shoved out of Los Angeles harbor. There is reason to expect that Newport harbor will be used by part of the fleet."

"Climatic conditions make the Southland ideal for industries, and a stupendous industrial development will take place in the next few years."

"Two-thirds of the world's population, living in the Orient, faces the Pacific coast, and is beginning to demand American-made goods. Newport harbor, as one of the gateways of the West, will share in the coming trade development to the Orient, and the Oriental development will aid the Pacific coast, just as the Atlantic coast development aided Europe."

"Water transportation will help rail transportation, and foreign trade will help to keep America busy and prosperous."

Wheaton, though he is but a recent arrival, is already an ardent believer in a great future for Orange county and its harbor at Newport bay.

By the use of a world map, Wheaton showed the fortunate location of Newport harbor, and Southern California to the scheme of Pacific ocean trade development, and he advised that Orange county people begin to prepare the way for the strides of the future.

At her home the story was denied. Efforts to locate either party proved futile. Brabin was divorced a few months ago.

WIGGINS FOUND AT ST. ANN'S ON HONEYMOON

The register at St. Ann's Inn today foiled Frank Wiggins, venerable secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and Miss Anne Ballew, his bride of a few hours, in their attempt to keep their honeymoon a secret.

A reporter "spotted" the flourishing signature, "Frank Wiggins and wife," on the hotel book and "the stuff was off."

The bride and bridegroom are bubbling over with happiness, they confided to the reporter.

They were married at Orange late yesterday afternoon by the Rev. C. J. K. Jones.

He is 74, she is 51.

"How shall I register?" asked Wiggins as he held the pen in readiness.

"Oh, just any way," replied his smiling bride, so "Frank M. Wiggins and wife" was written with a flourish on the register.

In fact, everything about the well known couple is seemingly with a flourish. Little smiles flourished on their faces, and even their voices seem to carry the same distinguished mark of happiness.

Keeping to themselves. "I have attended to the affairs of Los Angeles for twenty-odd years," stated Wiggins today, "and it seemed to me it was high time that I devoted some time to the Wigginses. For that reason we are keeping very quietly to ourselves in this pleasant place which I located some time ago."

Wiggins was in Santa Ana last Sunday, a guest at the Inn, which, he stated, he had recommended scores of times to friends, and at that time decided upon it as the location of his honeymoon.

"Just a few more days of private life," stated the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce head, "and then we will step back into public life. But until next Monday, we really desire nothing so much as to be left alone."

Ceremony at Orange.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. J. K. Jones, long time friend of the bridegroom, in his home at Orange. His housekeeper was the only attendant. It was apparent that every effort was made to keep the marriage secret in Los Angeles.

A. G. Arnoll, assistant secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber, gave the first intimation of the nuptial at the close of a meeting of a board of directors.

The romance had its beginning while the bride was employed in the office of the Chamber of Commerce. She was considered sort of a right bower to Secretary Wiggins, whose secretary she was for fourteen years.

Wiggins' first wife died in April of last year. Theirs was a romance which began far back in Indiana in the winter of '66. They were married in Los Angeles.

CHURCHES WILL BE ASKED FOR HUT SUM

Through an appeal to the churches of Santa Ana, the general committee in charge of the erection of a Y. W. C. A. hut on the high school campus expects to secure $3,000 to be added to $5,000 already pledged to the building fund.

Late yesterday afternoon a conference of the finance and building committees, with members of the general committee, was held at the office of the city school superintendent.

The building committee reported that it would take about $8,000 to construct a building adequate to the needs of the Y. W. C. A. and in keeping with the style of structure of the buildings in the high school group. The general committee had hoped that $5,000 would be sufficient to cover the cost.

Some changes in the plans of the building have been suggested that may reduce the cost of the structure somewhat, but the necessity of an additional sum for carrying out the plans was apparent at yesterday's meeting.

Mrs. W. B. Tedford and Mrs. C. F. Smith of the finance committee said that $5,000 had been pledged, but that some other method than the appeal through their committee ought to be devised. It was suggested that the appeal be direct to the churches, since the work that the hut is to do is essentially character-building and Christian and doubtless would be looked upon by the churches as practical right-at-home work.

The Rev. John Oliver, pastor of the First Methodist church, was appointed as a chairman with authority to appoint four others to work with him to arrange a plan for the collection of $5,000 from the church for the Y. W. C. A. hut fund.

MAN BOUND OVER ON CHARGE HE DROVE CAR WHILE INTOXICATED

Charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, Pablo Velarde, Mexican, of Colton, today stood bound over to the superior court, following his preliminary hearing here.

Velarde was arrested by Deputy Constable G. M. Bartley of El Modena, Bartley, the complaining witness, said he halted Velarde on the night of June 26 while he was driving through El Modena. Velarde was driving a Ford touring car and had two of his small children with him.

A local physician testified that he examined Velarde at the county jail on the night of his arrest. There was no doubt that he was intoxicated, according to the doctor. According to Bartley, Velarde admitted that he had been drinking.

Upon plea of Albert Trujillo, of San Bernardino, attorney for the defendant, Justice of the Peace Cox released Velarde on his own recognizance. Bail of $100, which he put up at the time of his arraignment, was refunded.

Velarde's attorney explained that the defendant's wife was in a delicate condition and that he was financially embarrassed.

WIFE SEEKS DECREE FROM BURON FITTS

Legionnaires of this city were today expressing much interest in the divorce action filed in Los Angeles yesterday by Mrs. Irene W. Fitts against Buron R. Fitts, commander of the department of California, American Legion.

It was stated that with the complaint, as filed by Mrs. Fitts through her attorney, W. H. Dehm and Leonard Comegys of Los Angeles, was filed also a voluntary agreement by Fitts to pay the plaintiff the sum of $100 monthly for a period of several years.

Neither plaintiff nor defendant has made a statement regarding the action, each one seeming to believe in the policy of a dignified silence.

Fitts' devotion to the cause of ex-service men has won for him an unusual prominence in all matters pertaining to the veterans, especially the disabled ones. It was stated that he recently suffered a stroke of partial paralysis of his shoulder as a result of overwork along such lines.

WILLIS WORMELL,

Captain of the schooner Carol A. Deering, which, with its entire crew has been missing since January. Reports that the vessel was captured by a Soviet raider or pirate ship are being run down by government agents. Rumors have reached Washington that Wormell and members of the crew are alive and held as prisoners by their captors.

CITRUS STRIKER RANKS CUT BY DESERTIONS

Defection, from the ranks of the orange packing house strikers at Orange, Olive and McPherson occurred today, with a large number of them returning to the positions which they vacated Wednesday, according to L. D. Palmer, manager of the Orange County Fruit exchange.

Palmer declared that all the packing houses have sufficient forces to operate their plants without loss in shipments. It is said that a majority of the strikers have changed their attitude and are willing to resume work at the schedule of 5½ cents a box.

The strikers walked out when it was announced that the pay would be cut from 6 cents to 5½ cents a box.

Directors Stand Firm

Directors of the various associations affected by the strike stood firm today in their determination to make the reduced schedule effective. The walkout occurred at a time when it crippled the packing houses the least, it is said. Citrus shipments have been light for a couple of weeks, owing to market conditions. Small forces have been employed as compared to those engaged at the period of peak shipments.

"We were in good condition today and have practically all the help we need at this time," said Palmer. "We have no fear as to the final result of our movement to lower the scale for orange packing."

Holds Out Justified

"We feel that we are fully justified in the action we took in decreasing the scale. Living costs have been lowered and wages have been and are being reduced generally. "I believe that all those who walked out will realize sooner or later that they made a mistake in assuming the attitude they did. Other employees of the association accepted wage reductions without hesitation and in good spirit. They realized that it was the order of the hour in general lines and I was somewhat surprised at the action of the packers."

STATE LEGION HEAD TO GO UNDER KNIFE

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—Buron R. Fitts, state commander of the American Legion, will soon undergo an operation necessitated by wounds received in service during the world war, he told the United Press today. Fitts has been suffering for several weeks from an old bullet wound in his right knee. Physicians have informed him that an operation will be necessary.

The operation will be probably performed during the week-end.

ANIMALS ESCAPE IN $5000 FIRE ON N. MAIN

Property damage estimated at $5000 resulted early this morning when fire destroyed a barn, garage and several small outhouses at the rear of the Finch home on North Main street, about a quarter of a mile beyond the city limits.

Five horses and one cow, quartered in the barn, were rescued with difficulty.

The roof of the barn fell in just as the last horse was pulled out of the firetrap.

One of the animals was slightly burned.

A six-cylinder Nash automobile, valued at $1000, a motorcycle, valued at $100, a bicycle and several farming implements, which were stored in the garage, were lost.

The fire started in the garage, presumably from spontaneous combustion. It broke out about 2:45 o'clock. A passerby saw a blaze in the rear of the Finch home and aroused the family.

First efforts were directed to saving the horses and the cow. Handicapped by a lack of waterpower the volunteer fire fighters could not subdue the flames which enveloped the barn and garage.

The timely arrival of the Santa Ana fire department saved the residence.

The property belonged to John, Alfred, Leonard and Raymond Finch and their sister, Mrs. Jennie Hopkins, all of whom live in the Finch residence.

According to John Finch, messenger for the Western Union, the loss is fully covered by insurance.

CARPENTIER ADMITS MISTAKES IN FIGHT

Frenchman Says He Thought He Could Beat Dempsey at His Own Game

United Press Leased Wire
NEW YORK, July 8.—Georges Carpentier has been accused by the experts of using poor judgment in his fight with Jack Dempsey. Instead of attempting to outslug the world's champion, it was generally supposed the Frenchman would use his feet to keep away.

Carpentier admits he did make a mistake but that he could not help it.

Georges Gives Views.

"I thought I was strong enough to hold him in the clinches. Once in the first round, I did get an uppercut over in a clinch, but that ended it," the Frenchman said today.

Georges explained he had trained for close fighting with Joe Jeanette and Paul Journee.

"They are great big fellows and I thought they were about as strong as the champion," he said. "I had no trouble in holding their arms in the clinches but Dempsey just knocked my arms down and hit me at will." Carpentier further explains he didn't keep away from Dempsey because he couldn't.

Dempsey Too Fast.

"In the third round I changed my tactics and tried to outspeed the champion, but I couldn't do it. He is much faster than we thought. He kept on me all the time. Twice in the third I danced away from him, but the third time he caught me against the ropes and rocked me with one of his great left hand punches," he said.

Descamps and Gus Wilson were supposed to have directed his fight from the corner. Carpentier denies this with the emphatic statement: "I always fight my own fight."

NEXT DELHI FIGHTS TO BE HELD JULY 27

Boyd Ellis local fight promoter, today definitely announced that there would be no boxing show Wednesday night at the Delhi arena. The Elks convention at Los Angeles and the nearness to the Fourth of July caused the postponement.

Smile Returning to Uncle Robbie's Face As Dodgers Improve

WILBERT ROBINSON,

Manager of the National league champion Brooklyn team, has been meeting with considerable trouble this season in getting his team into winning form, but the Dodgers now appear to be in a fair way of entering the first division. The pitching staff that won the league pennant for Brooklyn last season has not been holding up this year and some of the regulars in the field have not been playing up to their 1920 form. Robbie confidently expects to be among the leaders when the curtain is dropped on the 1921 season.

DEMPSEY FROWNS ON BOUT WITH JOHNSON

OMAHA, Neb., July 8.—Prospects of a fight between Jack Johnson and Jack Dempsey are very remote, the heavyweight champion intimated here today. Dempsey declared he would never fight a colored man unless the public positively demanded it.

"I will fight any man that the public demands, but the demand will have to be overwhelming before I will consent to enter the ring with Johnson or any other colored man," Dempsey said.

The champion said he did not know who his next opponent would be. "I've about run out of opponents," he said. "Tommy Gibbons is a mighty good man, but he's too light."

DOMINIONS HIT AT SLOWNESS OF NEWS

LONDON, July 8.—Sharp criticism of the paucity and slowness of communications by steamship, airplane, telegraph and wireless between Great Britain and the dominions were voiced at Tuesday's session of the imperial conference at which a decision was reached to appoint a committee to consider development of communications. The official text of the speeches was issued and in it there were expressions of disappointment of American world distribution of news.

Premier Hughes of Australia said the United States was conducting wireless service to England, France, Norway, Japan and Germany, and was arranging to cover other fields. He declared America was daily radiating, not only American news but American concepts of world events, while Great Britain did nothing.

VENTURA, July 8.—Eva Rodriguez, a Mexican girl of 14, quarreled with her aunt, went to Satcoy to see the Escalante Mexican circus, showing there, fell desperately in love with a cornet player, accompanied him to Santa Barbara and told the district attorney it was all her fault.

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—A busted spike on the hoof of Shortstop McAuley of the Los Angeles team gave the Angels a 2 to 1 victory over the Angels yesterday. A Changing World

"We are living in a changing world. I never thought I could ever be cured of my stomach trouble. Medical science seemed unable to help me. But thank God we are progressing and now May's Wonderful Remedy has delivered me from all stomach symptoms. I am again able to eat anything." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. All druggists.—Adv.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—Hopes for a peace in the San Francisco building war went glimmering again when it was learned today that a majority of the unions of the Building Trades council had voted to reject the proposal of the industrial relations committee of the Chamber of Commerce. A few unions accepted the terms and some men have reported back to work.

TURNED BACK ON HIS WAY TO ARIZONA

"I was on my way to Arizona for my health when I heard about Tanlac and started taking it, and it built me up so fast I turned right around and went back home, and have been feeling fine ever since." The above statement was made by John O'Donnell, of 121 Savannah St., Los Angeles, Cal., a well known machinist employed by the Lacey Manufacturing Co.

"This was a year ago that Tanlac set me right and put me into shape where I gained twenty pounds in a few weeks' time, and to this day I have retained my weight and been in the very best of health."

"My troubles all started back in 1918 when I had a bad spell of the 'flu' and my whole system was left so weak and run down I was unable to work. My stomach was sour all the time and I had practically no appetite at all. I couldn't sleep to do any good and went down in weight so fast it alarmed me. I had pains all through my chest, and I tried every medicine and treatment I knew of, but nothing would reach my case."

"Finally I was told a change of climate was what I needed. I was living in Oakland then, so I started for Arizona but stopped off in Cima, California, to visit friends who told me about Tanlac, and I bought a bottle. By the time I had finished my third bottle I was feeling so fine I came to Los Angeles and went to work. My appetite returned and I can digest anything I eat, my troubles all left me and I have enjoyed fine health ever since." Tanlac is sold in Santa Ana by Rowley Drug Co.

CYPRESS

CYPRESS, July 8.—A petition circulated throughout the Cypress district for the voice of the people in arranging a bond issue for the erection of new school buildings proved that the people were almost unanimously in favor of the issue. The old school house has long been an "eye sore" to many of the Cypress residents, and a chance to help in the erection of a new building was very welcome to most of the people, it is said.

Two petitions were circulated—one to annex Cypress district to the Garden Grove high school district and one to the Anaheim high school district. Both petitions were thrown out on the technicalities.

A new petition is now being circulated by the Anaheim adherents and it is said that the Garden Grove backers have dropped out of the issue, so it would appear Cypress will be a part of the Anaheim Union high school district.

RIDE A BICYCLE

Boys-Girls-

Do A Little Work For The Register And Get

A $65.00

Bicycle

Without Paying A Cent

Dozens Of Them To Be Given Away On This Basis

---These Bicycles the Register is distributing among the boys and girls are INDIAN BICYCLES. You know how good they are. There is no limit to the number of them that are to be given out. There is one for every boy and girl in the county if they can do the work the Register wants done. There is no age limit in this proposition. It makes no difference where you live. If you can spare a little time between now and the First of September you can get one of these good bicycles easily.

This Is the Way to Get Them

—All you have to do to get one of these Indian Bicycles is to get forty-five (45) new six-months subscribers for the Register.

—Call at the Register office and ask for Mr. Packard. He will give you some subscription blanks. You do not have to collect any money. Just get as many people as you can to agree to take the Register and sign one of these subscription blanks. When you turn the subscriptions in at the Register office you will be given credit for them and as soon as your list reaches forty-five you will be given your $65.00 bicycle.

—Any boy or girl in Orange County is eligible for this work. Every boy or girl who makes an earnest effort and is not successful in getting forty-five subscribers will be paid in cash for the work; so you will be paid for your time, whether you earn a bicycle or not.

—These subscribers do not have to live in Orange County to count. If you have friends "back East" or elsewhere who will subscribe they will be credited to your list.

—No credit will be given for any excepting NEW subscribers.

—No subscriber who is taking the Register on the date this offer is made will be counted.

—This offer begins at once and lasts until the First day of September, 1921. If you want one of the best bicycles made, get busy NOW.

Remember—If You Fail To Earn A Bike You Get Paid In Cash For The Work You Have Done

—The Register doesn't want anyone to work for nothing. It will be an easy matter to earn one of these fine bikes, but if any boy or girl fails through illness or for any other good reason, that boy or girl will be paid in cash.

—The time to do a thing like this is RIGHT NOW! Don't wait a few days until other boys and girls start. If you wait a few days some one else may "beat you to" the prospective subscriber you had in mind. Get your subscription blanks this very evening and START OUT NOW.

Miss Stella Holmes and sister, Gertrude, teachers from Omaha, Neb., visited in Brea Sunday and Monday.

Their coming furnished another and new bond of friendship for the pastors of the Brea Congregational and Christian churches. They are cousins of Mrs. W. E. Spicer.

Touring the West they paid a visit to the Christian parsonage and upon learning that the Rev. B. W. March is preaching in Brea they hastened to visit the Congregational parsonage. The Rev. Mr. March was their favorite pastor in the Methodist church at Auburn, Nebraska, a few years ago. The Misses Holmes are spending some few days with Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson, of Orange, Mrs. Peterson being a favorite school mate and chum.

A live-wire bunch of young people in Brea have tackled a big job. They are organizing themselves into a circus company, capital stock limited to home talent, and all very uncommon. They are all proprietors, promoters and performers.

The biggest, best, brightest Brea show on earth, is scheduled for its first and only unexcelled exhibition on July 15. A parade in flourishes, feathers and fun will break the humdrum of normal existence on the afternoon of next Friday the fifteenth and start the "bers" toward a big ring with side-shows and concessions galore.

Margaret Falconer, a senior in the University of Southern California, has been elected generalissimo and grand directress. Circus directing is a new study in her equipment for future activities in South America. Since this show is shown by Endeavorers, the Endeavorers of the county are invited to take notice and report at the box office a week from today.

Mr. Gnagy is taking a hand at hard labor on his own brick business block. That building will be well-constructed and some future realtor will have a fine talking point if Mr. Gnagy ever sells it. To the delight of his former customers Mr. Gnagy will conduct a grocery and meat business of his own in his new structure.

Notice to the Public—Corn husks should be thrown with trash instead of garbage. Edward Dahl, Street Superintendent.

Things Worth Knowing
About Orange County

Not only because of its situation, two miles east of Santa Ana, the metropolis and county capital, with the beautiful foothills just beyond, but because of the culture and enterprise of its people, Tustin's ambition to become a choice residence section is already assured of realization.

Then, too, there is no better soil anywhere than that of the Tustin section, and no better culture development. Some of the finest walnut groves and orange and lemon groves and apricot orchards in the world surround the beautiful little village; and on the outskirts of these, to the southeast, vegetable-growing on a large scale is well under way.

To the south a mile or two are fertile sugar beet fields, while the greatest lima bean and black-eye bean fields in the county but a short distance to the south.

It is as a Valencia orange-growing section that Tustin has made itself best known. Citrus experts who have examined the soil and watched the thermometers declare that no spot on earth could be more ideal for growing this wonderful fruit than is Tustin.

Nearly all lines of business, including a lumber yard and a bank—the First National—are now represented here. The Tustin schools rank with the best anywhere, and the new combination school house, auditorium and civic center would be a credit to any city of many times the population of Tustin. There are two churches in Tustin and a farm bureau center.

Very recently the Tustin section organized a high school district, and within a few months suitable grounds and buildings will further adorn and add to the facilities of the civic center.

Tustin is located on what is known as the Tustin branch of the Southern Pacific, and it is over that branch that much of its citrus fruit is shipped. Desiring to get a share in the heavy shipments of this fine section, the Santa Fe two or three years ago built a spur track into Tustin.

Oranges and lemons shipped from this section are recognized as at the very top in the citrus industry.

There is every reason to believe that it will only be a year or two before Tustin has an electric line connecting with the Pacific Electric at Santa Ana. In fact, most of the right-of-way has been secured and is being held pending the development of the railroad situation in general.

Tustin has long had qualifications that have made it distinctive. Its big trees are one of the features of the place. Here and there in yards are gigantic sycamores, left over from days before orchards were set out.

The state highway passes through Tustin. Roundabout it are other paved roads. Only a few miles from the ocean, and but a short distance from the foothills, Tustin is ideally located.

Its beautiful orchards, beautiful homes and enterprising citizenry are an assurance of a steady growth in the future. It is so close to Santa Ana that its residents in full measure enjoy whatever attractions in clubs, churches, theaters and other organizations that people of the larger city enjoy.

W. W. McComb, wealthy banker and churchman of Lebanon, Mo., and brother of Ernest McComb of Irvine, will be sued for $150,000 damages in a suit for alleged breach of promise to be filed in Missouri by Erle Mullicane, who in Los Angeles is charged with the murder of her newborn baby, according to advices reaching here today. The banker is charged by Miss Mullicane with being the father of her child. The man is now said to be in serious physical condition as the result of the girl's accusations. Word as to the proposed suit reached Los Angeles following the arrival at Lebanon of Mrs. Angela Kaufman, of Los Angeles, millionaire benefactress of the girl, and Arthur Verge, her attorney.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, July 8.—Friends of William Kerr, of this place, who won the mile race at the recent state meet at Berkeley, were much disappointed that he was unable to take part in the national meet held at Pasadena last Saturday and two days of this week. He had been training since the close of school and stood an excellent chance of winning, but shortly before the meet he had the misfortune to slip on some fruit skins as he alighted from a street car, injuring his knee in the fall. Further injury resulted when he made a short practice run. The time made by the winner of the mile in the national meet at Pasadena was four minutes thirty-two and one-fifth seconds, while the time made by Kerr at Berkeley was four minutes thirty and two-fifth seconds.

Rather than make the attempt to run under a handicap, endangering his chances of success, he decided to wait till next year's meet, when it is hoped he will be a winner.

He left the first of the week for Hemet to work in the apricots.

Those who have met Mrs. Mary E. Brown on her visits here with her husband, Angus Brown, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Linder, will regret to learn of her death at Clifton at 10 o'clock Sunday night of heart trouble. Monday, July 4, would have been her sixtieth birthday. The sad news was conveyed to friends here by Mrs. Brown's daughter, Mrs. Marchman, of the Newhope district.

Mrs. Brown had been in poor health for the past twenty-five years, since she was in a railroad accident, and since that time she has been obliged to use crutches. She visited Mrs. Linder here in December last, and after her return home was confined to her bed till death ended her sufferings.

William Veale, uncle of Mrs. Leora Blakey, with his son, Arthur Veale, and wife and two children, India and Carl, of Santa Paula, visited at the Blakey home over the week end. They arrived at 7 o'clock Saturday evening, having made the trip in about five hours, including a detour of twenty-five or thirty miles on account of repairs being made in the road.

Sunday afternoon was spent in visiting old friends in Wintersburg and a trip to the oil fields. They returned home Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jolly Stufflebeem and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Baker, of Visalia, arrived Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Edwards, parents of Mrs. Stufflebeem and Mrs. Baker, to stay over the Fourth in company with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kettler of Buena Park, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Edwards, Mrs. Ben Craig and children the whole party spent Monday at Huntington Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartshorn and family spent Monday afternoon and evening at the beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Phelps, of Cucamonga, were guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Linder, Sunday, when they came down for their son, Gerald, who has been spending a week with his grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Phelps also took dinner at the Linder home.

A large number of Westminster residents enjoyed the Fourth at Huntington Beach, some remaining for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Young and children spent the Fourth at the Orange County park with relatives and friends.

The drill collar and bit which was broken off in the Westminster Oil company's well has been removed and work is going on as usual.

WIFE TURNS TABLES AND WINS DIVORCE

Following the submission of all evidence in the divorce action brought by Allen H. Bartlett against Leta Bartlett, Superior Judge R. Y. Williams granted a divorce to Mrs. Bartlett, who countersued her husband's suit with a cross-complaint charging non-support and cruelty.

Mrs. Bartlett not only won the divorce, but the custody of her 5-year-old daughter and $30 a month alimony for the support of the child. Bartlett failed to prove the desertion charge which he brought against his wife.

The couple were married in Santa Ana in July, 1913. It is understood that Bartlett has been living in Los Angeles and San Jose since he and his wife separated in March, 1917.

There was time for only a part of the delegates to report, so it was announced that the reports would be continued next Sunday evening. A number of the convention songs were sung, including the "Glendale C. E. Song," "Precious Promise," "Love Lifted Me," and "Keep Me True."

"When a thought becomes a thing,

THAT INSANITY INCREASE

Dr. J. M. Lee of Rochester, N. Y., says in an address to members of his profession that insanity is on the increase in this country. The first cause he finds in the great war and its disquieting influences, the second he ascribes to wrong ways of living.

Our methods of living and eating and the general hustle and the tendency to worry and brood make for throwing the mental machinery out of gear," he explains.

It is not surprising that the war which upset every other balance in the world had an unsettling effect upon mental balance also. When to such a general disturbing agency are added bad habits of living and thinking, the result is bound to be doubly serious. Even if the direct menace of insanity hangs over comparatively few heads, nevertheless everybody's chances of developing and retaining 100 per cent mental and physical ability will be greatly improved by sane habits of eating, well ordered and deliberate living and the resolute avoidance of worry.

One wise old teacher was fond of quoting to her classes:

"For every evil under the sun
There's a remedy, or there's none.
If there is one, try to find it.
If there isn't—never mind it."

It was excellent advice for the quiet generation in which she lived and shed her gentle influence. It is even better today.

Some conception of the task before the Shipping Board may be gained when it is realized that there are about 900 lawsuits pending against the board, involving $50,000,000. Nine hundred claims are pending before the claim department of the board involving between $50,000,000 and $100,000,000, and some 1,700 admiralty cases are awaiting determination. Nobody knows where the records of all those cases are, who the claimants may be, or what the amounts are that are claimed. The suits involve hundreds of millions of dollars of the people's money, yet the interests of the government have been in charge of young lawyers employed at ridiculously low salaries, who are compelled to meet the highest paid legal experts in the country. Chairman Lasker has announced that he will seek authority to employ really big men to get the government out of its business tangle.

PROHIBITION'S FUTURE

"Prohibition is here to stay," says John F. Kramer, former national prohibition commissioner. "It will always be part of the fundamental law of the land. It never can be removed therefrom."

No man can read the future much farther than the end of his nose, but to judge from contemporary evidence and the usual working of the human mind, the statement is sound. The benefits of prohibition, moral, physical, mental and economic, are so plain to any open-minded inquirer that it is hardly conceivable that any rational people should want to return to the old regime.

LIVING TO BE 150

Dr. A. H. Warner, addressing the Allied Medical Associations of America, says that everybody ought to live to be 150 years old, and that "given a sound constitution and a clean record," everybody could, if he only made up his mind to it.

"I'm 72 now," says Dr. Warner, "and I intend to live to be 100. If life still looks good to me at that age, I think I'll still continue right on the job for another half-century. It's simply a matter of psychology and good living."

People expect to die at about the age of 70, he says, because of the biblical reference to a man's life being "three-score years and ten." He considers that all wrong. "People have just hypnotized themselves into the belief because it's in the bible."

It might be pertinent to ask how that 70-year estimate ever happened to get into the Bible. People must have been dying at that age for quite a while, when it went into the sacred record. As for the miraculous ages attributed to certain patriarchs, running well up toward 1,000 years, they are not accepted literally nowadays either by medical scientists or Biblical scholars. One explanation is that the old Hebrew word translated "years" in such cases originally meant "months."

As for the psychology of living, doubtless a good deal can be done with that. Man may not be able to add one cubit to his stature by "taking thought," but by clean living he can probably add quite a few years to his normal expectation of life. It is asking too much, however, when anybody wants us to believe that even a person of exceptionally vigorous physique can, by clean living, will or mental conviction, prolong his life term to 150 years.

And if he could, who would wish it on himself? Old age and slow decay are a phase of life just as much as youth and growth. To die is as natural as to be born, when the time comes.

THE DELUDED MINERS

The great British coal strike, now ended, has been even more of a disaster for the strikers than for the rest of the British people. They have held out for months, trusting to flattering leaders and buoyed up by the hope of winning, until most of them faced starvation. They do not realize yet the public will that has been aroused against their industry and them. They do not realize the need of deflation, affecting wages as well as prices. They do not know that there is no longer the old market for Welsh coal, at boom prices. They do not know that the poorer mines, closed when they walked out, are not going to be reopened, because it no longer pays to work them, and therefore many thousands will have no jobs to go back to. They do not know, and have not been told, that the English people, if they are ever to get out of the hole they are in, have all got to buckle down and work harder.

"What is wanted," says Sir Philip Gibbs, "is courageous leadership which will strip reality of all illusion and bring men face to face with stern necessity."

All the world loves a doer. Do something worth while, and don't worry about who gets the credit. Those who chase the spotlight find that it is a thankless job. Do something and the spotlight will follow you, you can't get away from it. Credit inevitably falls eventually just where it is due.

We Grow More Literate

Cleveland Plain Dealer

Illiteracy in the United States is decreasing. Census figures show it. Slowly but surely the public schools are reaching a greater proportion of the population. In the southern states, where illiteracy is especially high, notable progress has been made in 10 years.

In rural sections illiteracy is still considerably higher than in the cities. The rural and village schools that enroll nearly half of our population have been neglected throughout the nation's history. Teachers are undertrained, there is a lack of books and equipment, and the minimum school term is entirely too low.

Facts of this kind have been collected in great abundance by those interested in federal legislation for increasing public school facilities. The backwardness of our systems they attribute to the type of legislation that exists in many states.

Some states have been niggardly in their educational appropriations. None have spent as much as they should. It is when census statistics show us that illiteracy in some states remain as high as 15 or 20 per cent that we realize the shortsightedness of our educational policy in some respects and the inadequacy of our educational program.

Centralizing Inspection

Riverside Enterprise

We are given to understand that some counties of the state have combined their city and county health departments to such an extent that it is possible for the work to be accomplished under the supervision of a single officer, who is either a city and county health officer or deputy. It is reported that such a plan has been adopted satisfactorily at San Jose and is being accomplished in Los Angeles. It means a saving of duplication and reduces the cost. All sanitary and health inspection is under the supervision of one central office.

The effort that is being made to secure adequate inspection in Riverside suggests that could be secured in Riverside city and county by the centralization of the duties of the city and county health officers and all of the sanitary, milk, meat, restaurant or other inspection deemed necessary under one head. It is claimed by those in a position to know, that this plan would cost less than the present one and would actually cost the city and county less than the inadequate inspection and health work being accomplished at this time. Also the city could be recognized as making the necessary effort to comply with the state regulations.

Everybody On a Budget

Visalia Delta

The government goes on a budget system July 1. It would be hopeful for the common prosperity if the idea were carried into all expense systems, public and private.

It seems a little ridiculous to the householder, struggling along on a sharply reduced income, and probably falling behind a little every month, to suggest that hard times are the best times for starting a budget, but this is true. The more restricted the income, the greater the need for carefully studied disbursement. And where expenditures are thus budgeted, the greater the hope for emerging from the financial depression with the same.

The one glorious fact about hard times is that to be poor is no disgrace and to economize is the common lot. This makes the restriction of expenditures natural and less humiliating.

So why not take the little old income, or the little new one, figure out just what the absolute necessities which it must cover, pinch it a bit more to allow regular, if small, payments on the back bills, and go forward with the great U. S. A. to financial solidity and prosperity?

A People Still Asleep

Riverside Press

Several hundred Mexicans were recently sent back to Mexico from Los Angeles, where they had become public charges because of a lack of work. A Mexican steamship was sent for them and they were taken back in a body.

These Mexicans came to California because they were lured here by high wages and plenty of work. Now the wages are down and the work is scarce. Lacking both they cannot live here longer, so they go back to Mexico where cheap beans and pulque make living costs reasonable.

One trouble with the Mexicans is their persistent refusal to know their own country. Another trouble is the lack of the push of modern progress. Still another tremendous handicap is that the system of small land holdings is a mystery to the general run of the population.

Recent pronouncements by President Oregon indicate that he is neither ignorant of these financial defects nor untroubled by their existence. He would like to see his people wake up, enlightened by the system of popular education; learn to know something of the value of themselves of the immeasurable resources of Mexico. A propaganda of these benefits is sorely needed in that country.

Things We'd Like To See

Today's Talk
by George Matthew Adams

LEARN EASE

The flutterer doesn't get very far.
Those who accomplish the most, do it in the easiest manner. I have always been amazed at the simplicity back of the actions of great men with whom I have come in contact.

And yet that very thing is the essence of greatness!
Learn ease—and carry it into everything that you do, as well as into all that you think and act.

The good motor driver shifts his gears without grating them.
There is power in smoothness. The quiet talker is always the most impressive. The soft tones of an orchestra are what shimmer into the heart. Loudness and bungling always irritate. Noise is a destructive force. Cicero's idea of quitting life was "as I would an inn!" No bluster, no excitement—just quietly, softly treading the laneway. Wendell Phillips was one of the most effective orators that America ever produced, and yet my father once told me that he stepped so unpretentiously upon the stage and went to talking in so quiet a manner that the listener's first question seemed to be: "Is this the great Wendell Phillips that I have been told so much about?"

But as the orator spoke on, his audience, as one man, seemed to be sitting forward in their seats, reluctant to lose a single word or infection of voice.

Learn ease!
You will go so much faster—and get so much further.
The pushing crowd is the slow moving crowd. Slow up. Take your time. Think more and talk less. Then you will have more to say. Most things turn out all right in the end if you leave them to their natural way.

The Velvet Hammer

By A. B. B.

WILLIAM C. JEROME

He audits with his eagle eye the Orange County books. He scrutinizes balances and critically looks. Perfection is the only point at which he's satisfied; with each provision of the law he's careful to abide. The state authorities declare that William is a peach and sets a standard hard for other auditors to reach.

He is an agriculturist who loves his rural loan. For all the means for raising beans are easy to Jerome; but should he run against a difficulty now and then, it's skillfully worked by his gifted brother Ben. Their ranches in Imperial as well as on the hills provide them freely with the stuff we use in paying bills.

Bill mingles with the fellows who do things with their might, and puts a shoulder to the wheel for everything that's right. He pastures with the brother Elks, that grand and noble throng where always starting something new to help the world along. He's a devoted leader of these patriotic gents, and helps them put across many big worth while events.

Worth While Verses

THEOCRITUS

Not of war nor of tears did he build his song,
For the hills and the fields and the shepherd throng
Are caught in his delicate net of words,
With the dread wood-nymphs and the gray sea-birds.
"Daphnis," he sang, "Daphnis is dying now,
Ye violets bear thorns, ye cattle bow
Your heads and weep for Daphnis." And he sang
Of Polyphemus till the meadows rang,
Of Aechine he sang; then bowed his head
And sang of Amaryllis loved, yet dead.
Then in a gladdened tone he told the tales
Of goatherds' loves in still Sicilian vales,
There the cicada with a noisy note
Chirped in the pine-tree while the poet wrote.
Within his verse he caught the hum of bees
That haunt the flowers underneath the trees.

The Writing of History

Fresno Republican

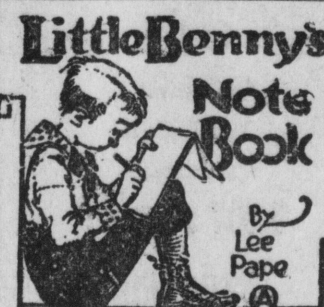

The statement that authorized agents of the Knights of Columbus are going to prepare, at a cost of some millions, a "propaganda-proof history" of the United States is interesting. And it is a laudable adventure, one to be given sympathetic attention and respectful consideration by all other Americans besides those that happen to be members of this order.

We should be allowed a gentle cynicism, however, until the history is published. For the work without question be valuable. It will doubtless do many things to "correct" or to clarify history as it has been written, and to check the reiteration of untruths of history as they have been given us in the past, or to give us new and valuable angles of vision on various historical subjects. We doubt whether the history of the United States, "propaganda-proof" or correct, and complete in any other sense, can be given us by an organization or by any institution. History is not properly prepared in any such way. And the mention of the large sum of money that is to be expended by the Knights of Columbus is merely emphasizing the impossibility of the task as it has been phrased by those who report the intention of this historical enterprise.

It is very much as was the case in the inception of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, an Evangelical Missionary organization. It was a lay movement. It calculated that one soul could be brought to the service of God for so much. Therefrom was deducted a simple mathematical formula. One soul so much. A million souls, a million times so much. And hence, with due regard to difficulties in various parts of the world, was derived the cost of evangelizing the whole world. All that was left was to raise so much money! And needless to say, the thing was not done, for souls are not to be saved in any such mathematical way. Billy Sunday, perhaps, thinks they can. But all great evangelists, from St. John the Evangelist down, have known better. They know that souls are to be saved only by souls.

And in the same way, history is to be written only by historians, and not by money. And it is to be written by men, not by institutions. History, written by men may be found to have human frailties. But history written by institutions will be found always to have institutional frailties. As between human, personal, frailties, and institutional frailties, we much prefer the former, much as we may honor the institutions for the work that they do in the fields for which they are fitted.

CHAPTER 32.
INTERESTING THINGS ABOUT THE PRAIRIE-DOG.
By Harvey Elliott.

While we are talking about the coyotes and the prairie-dogs which are the newest acquaintances of Billy Bear, you might be interested in knowing a little more about these little creatures called prairie-dogs. We told you before how they burrow in the ground and live in these holes and eat grass and roots which they can find outside.

You remember the story telling about how Dick Coyote and his wife caught a little prairie-dog for their children's supper. Well, the coyotes look on a prairie-dog town a good deal like a cow looks on a clover patch—a proper place to make her living. So these coyotes work all kinds of schemes to catch the prairie-dogs.

Some books tell you how the prairie-dog, the burrowing owl and the rattlesnake all sometimes live in the same den in a spirit of brotherly love. They tell how they enter into partnership to help one another—the prairie-dog digging the hole, the owl sitting above to give the warning of danger, and the rattlesnake to defend the prairie-dog's young.

This would be a pleasing story, if it were true. There is no question that all three sometimes live in the same hole. But the fact is that the owl and the snake merely use the holes that the prairie-dog has made. It is doubtful, however, if they all live in the same hole at the same time. If the owl and the snake come in, if the prairie-dog are driven out. If any two happen to meet in the same den it becomes a matter of the survival of the fittest, or the strongest winning out. Furthermore, the young of one is regarded as a very choice dainty for the other.

Farmers regard prairie-dogs as a great nuisance. They do millions of dollars' worth of damage to crops every year. Oftentimes farmers will get rid of them by putting poison in all the holes in the prairie-dog town. Now a new way has been discovered, since the war, to destroy destructive creatures like these. It is the poison gas. When this is forced into rat-holes along the wharves and other places, it kills the rats. Men are also planning to flood the cotton fields with it for killing the boll-weevil that destroys the cotton crops. Doubtless they will be using it also on the poor little prairie-dog.

The prairie-dog has no friends. His enemies and dangers seem to grow. The only pleasures of his life seem to be in his hasty meal of dry grass snatched away from his cautious watching for trouble. Perhaps he dodges down his doorway a dozen times before he gets his meal half finished.

Still, the little prairie-dog is fat and happy and seems to enjoy every day of his life.

Let us learn to be happy and cheerful though things are not always pleasant around us.

When you are in the company of a man who is well posted on a certain subject, do not try to impress him with the fact that you also are quite well informed on the same subject.

It would be much more profitable to you to ask him questions which will bring additional knowledge to you.

You have nothing to gain by a display of knowledge, trying to make a man think you know considerable, because you cannot fool a man who really knows.

Then the man who knows does not volunteer information to a man who tries to work a bluff that he knows, but most men will give out some good pointers to the person, who, by asking questions, admits that he is interested and desires to learn.

Thousands and thousands of men have failed to make a success of their lives because they were unwilling to admit their ignorance along lines that they figure they should know a great deal.
